ALASKAN STATEHOOD PREDICTED. Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) predicted Wednesday that the Alaska statehood bill would be subjected to a "long, drawn out" debate in the Senate, but expressed confidence the Senate would make the territory the 49th state. In anticipation of the expected passage a 49th star is "affixed" to the American flag by Sue Bartlett, 17, daughter of the delegate from Alaska. Left to right are Sens. Jackson, Frank Church (D-Ida), Miss Bartlett, and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif). (UPI Telephoto)

Democrats Shelve Plans For Full-Scale Assembly Fight on Legalizing SUB

Labor Stand Takes Steam Out of Drive

AFL-CIO Gambling On Courts, Opposes Action by Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Faced with an announced lack of support from organized labor, most minority Democrats in the Ohio Legislature have abandoned a planned all-out fight to legalize payment of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) simultaneously with state jobless compensation.

There still will be a lot of oratory, but the zip is gone.

An Ohio AFL-CIO news release, issued at the convening hour of a special session of the Legislature Wednesday, cut the ground from under the feet of the Democrats. It said:

Cases Under Appeal

"We do not believe it is necessary for the special session of the state Legislature to consider legislation on the payment of supplemental benefits because we maintain the present law permits supplementation."

SUB cases are being appealed now before the Ohio Supreme Court because Mahoning County courts held that simultaneous SUB and state jobless payments are legal under present Ohio law.

The AFL-CIO release took all the steam out of the Democrats' plan to talk up a legislative storm with the warning: "Legislative action might confuse the situation."

At the same time, a House committee beat down attempts to consider the SUB question.

O'Neill Asks $6 Million

As the Legislature continued work today, Rep. Kline Roberts (R-Franklin), House majority leader, introduced the bill to permit municipalities to issue 40-year general obligation bonds for sewer construction. The present limit is 25 years. Roberts said the extension would aid sewer construction in cities.

The House then recessed until 1:30 p.m. without taking any further actions.

Meanwhile, the heavily GOP-dominated Legislature ground

Tension Mounts in Lebanon Capital As Heavy Fighting Erupts in Tripoli

Damage Not Severe From Local Storm

Tree Limbs, Power Lines Felled; 3 Area Barns Knocked Down

High winds moved across Marion Wednesday, knocking down tree limbs, telephone and electric wires here and at least three barns in the Marion area.

And, "the rains came." Officially, .98 of an inch fell on the countryside, hiking to 5.67 inches the total amount of precipitation recorded thus far this month. Farmers in the area, already concerned about corn and bean fields, to say nothing of ruined hay crops, looked on with dismay as the downpour guaranteed another lenghthy period before field work could be resumed.

Temperature Hits 83

The temperature climbed to a high of 83 before the wind and rain sent it tumbling late in the afternoon. It reached an overnight low of 51. By noon today it was back to 65, with a peak of 70 in the day's forecast.

Fortunately, the tornadoes anticipated Wednesday afternoon and evening failed to materialize in this area, although the wind was reported to reach gusts of 65 m.p.h. on occasion.

Today's forecast was void of the mention of more rain. A low of 50 is expected tonight, with 74 the anticipated high Friday.

At Upper Sandusky high winds caused minor damage, although one gust of wind caused a barn north of town to collapse.

Numerous tree limbs were blown down and telephone service in the village was disrupted for a time. Sheriff's deputies reported that a tile blocked up on Rt. 53 two and one-half miles north of Upper Sandusky causing water to flood the road. Traffic, however, was not disrupted.

Barn Blown Down

The barn blown down was on the W. P. Reile farm three miles north of Upper Sandusky on Rt. 23. A grandson of the owner said a sudden gust of wind forced the roof of the building open "like a book" and the walls to collapse.

Northern Hardin County was hard-hit by the storm along a line running from Dola to Dunkirk to Forest. While high winds were felt in Kenton, no damage was reported other than a few tree limbs downed.

The Great Scioto Marsh west of Kenton was inundated by a three-

Chamoun Fears All-Out Drive By Arabs To Seize Power

BEIRUT (AP) — Hard fighting raged for more than four hours today in the port of Tripoli. At least 6 persons were killed and 20 injured.

Omar Karomi, a rebel leader, told The Associated Press by telephone that the fighting broke out at noon and quickly spread to the central section of the city. Karomi is a brother of Tripoli's rebel leader Raschid Karomi.

"The fighting reached a climax about 3 p.m." Karomi said. Then it slacked off, but shooting was still going on at 4 p.m.

Karomi denied Cairo radio reports that strong rebel reinforcements are marching on Tripoli.

Tripoli is the city where the Lebanese rebellion started 48 days ago.

Fighting went on in the city all Wednesday night. An army communique said it started when rebels opened fire on army positions and civilians. The rebels said the government forces employed armored cars to blast rebel roadblocks in the city.

Night skirmishes also were reported from the Bekaa Valley in central Lebanon.

Beirut, however, was quiet after several hours of firing Wednesday. Chamoun had predicted Tuesday that leaders of the 48-day-old rebellion against his government would launch a full-scale assault within 48 hours.

In south Lebanon a land mine blew up a U.N. patrol car, slightly wounding an Indian observer.

Hammarskjold flew back to New York carrying an urgent request from Premier Sami Solh for the U.N. to send an emergency force to Lebanon. An unofficial truce had prevailed during the secretary general's one-week visit.

Solh asked Hammarskjold for an armed international force to replace the present corps of less than 100 observers and seal Lebanon's borders against aid and reinforcements to the rebels from the neighboring Syrian province of the United Arab Republic.

Hammarskjold was expected to relay the request to the Security Council.

The probability of a Soviet veto in the Security Council of any police force proposal caused Western diplomats at U.N. headquarters to predict an emergency session of the General Assembly would be called.

The Assembly could act without a veto to send in international troops. But whether it could act in time to do Chamoun's government any good was another matter.

Chamoun said that if the U.N. fails to help him, he may call on the United States and Britain to provide direct aid under the U.N. Charter provision for collective defense.

The Soviet Union has warned against either a U.N. emergency force for Lebanon or direct U.S.-British intervention.

Two Escapees Are Caught in West Virginia

Two of the three Marion Correctional Institution inmates who escaped early the morning of June 13 by climbing out a hospital ward window were apprehended Wednesday at Racine, W. Va., by state police, Lamoyne Green, superintendent of the local prison, reported today.

Mr. Green said the captured fugitives were Herman E. Williams, 31, formerly of the Montgomery, W. Va., area and James R. Murphy, 25, believed to be from Cleveland.

The third escapee, Duane E. Gulley, 21, of Indiana, is still at large, Mr. Green said. State po-

U.S. Calling Soviet Bluff Over Parley

Notifies Moscow That West Will Be Ready In Geneva on July 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States called the Soviet Union's propaganda hand today and notified Moscow that U.S. experts will be in Geneva July 1 as agreed for technical atomic talks.

The U.S. move was agreed upon at a White House meeting Wednesday night between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

It seemed likely that, unless the Soviet Union also showed up for the meeting, the Kremlin would be trapped in a backfire of its own cold war maneuvering.

Western diplomats were surprised Wednesday that the Soviet Union did an about-face less than 24 hours after indicating it would have Soviet and East European experts on hand at Geneva, where the technical talks are due to open next Tuesday.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson a note saying Soviet nuclear experts would not attend unless the United States took a position in advance that a ban on nuclear weapons tests is needed. Some U.S. experts already were en route to Geneva.

The Geneva talks are planned to discuss possible methods of policing any East-West agreement to

County Okays Ditch Project On Blum Run

The county commissioners today approved an amended petition for improvements to the Blum Run ditch in the vicinity of the Fair Park addition.

But a second hearing is to be scheduled to decide who will pay for the project which has been estimated by County Engineer Reed Ours at $22,773. Commissioners said the hearing will be held sometime after the engineer prepares plans and profiles.

Several property owners attending the two and one-half hour hearing in the commissioners' office said they would refuse to pay any assessments on the improvement. A petition of protest, bearing 53 signatures, was read at the outset of the meeting.

In the petition, the property owners said they object to any other improvement than would provide for the ditch to be tiled and leveled with rear lots.

The amended petition which was filed with the commissioners last week calls for installation of a 27-inch tile from Fairground St. north to the corporation line, a distance of about 2,000 feet. It also asks widening, depening and straightening of the waterway and provisions

Rep. Robinson Heads Group Studying Law

The House Judiciary Committee headed by Rep. Kenneth A. Robinson (R-Marion) today unanimously recommended passage by the special session of a bill to facilitate construction of sewer and water lines outside cities.

It was the third of four measures recommended by Gov. C. William O'Neill to win committee approval. The House was expected to approve the measure and send it to the Senate in quick order.

The bill is the result of a compromise on the existing sewer law reached in Columbus last month at a meeting of county commissioners, farm organizations, suburban groups and bonding attorneys. It is aimed at erasing existing doubt as to the authority of county commissioners to make assessments necessary to retire bonds issued to build sewer lines.

Existence of that doubt, which cropped up under a change in the sewer assessment law at last year's session of the Legislature, has made bonding attorneys unwilling to approve the sale of sewer bonds. It had the result of blocking about 23 million dollars

Fox Presents Testimony in Open Session

House Group Denies Demand by Goldfine For Secret Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former publisher John Fox testified today that "powerful and malign influences" were exerted against him from the federal government. He suggested the object was to eliminate his now-defunct Boston Post.

And, Fox told House investigators, the federal forces "were not unconnected with the Boston Herald Traveler Corp. and Bernard Goldfine."

A special House investigating subcommittee allowed Fox to begin testifying in public despite objections by Goldfine, Boston industrialist and friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

Goldfine contended through his lawyers that Fox's testimony could be expected to defame him. He asked that it be taken in closed session.

The committee decided on an open hearing but under an agreement that Fox would give notice if he were about to defame someone. On such notice, the committee would decide whether to go into closed session.

Morrow Man Fatally Hurt in Shop Accident

MOUNT GILEAD—Edd Russell, 30, of near Chesterville died in White Cross Hospital in Columbus Wednesday morning at 11:20 of head injuries suffered in an accident Monday morning in Edison.

Mr. Russell had taken his combine into the Bolinger Implement Shop in Edison Monday morning to be repaired.

As he and Bobby Weiler, working on the piece of equipment outside the building, pulled out a pin to remove the casting, the casting flew out and struck Mr. Russell on the right temple.

He was rushed to the Columbus hospital in a Craven ambulance and was operated on immediately. Doctors even cut open his chest and massaged the heart to start it beating again in an effort to save him.

A press operator at the Westinghouse plant in Mansfield, Mr. Russell was a native of Morrow County and a member of the Chesterville Methodist Church.

He was born March 23, 1928, to William and Roby McPeek Russell. The parents now reside in Lexington.

Surviving, in addition to his parents, are his widow, the former Mae Bachelder; two daughters, Christy and Kathy; and a son, Phillip, all of the home; three

Navy Satellite Again Fails To Go Into Orbit

Rocket's 2nd Stage Doesn't Ignite; New Engine Is in Making

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Another "basketball" satellite was boosted into space by a Vanguard rocket today. Then, like its two predecessors, the 20-inch, 21½-pound sphere plunged back to earth.

Failure of the Vanguard's second stage to ignite was blamed by the Naval Research Laboratory.

The 72-foot Navy rocket now has failed in five of its six tries. Its only success was chalked up March 17, when it launched the 3½-pound "grapefruit" satellite, tiniest of the man-made moons circling the earth.

New Engine Being Built

Immediately in the wake of this latest failure came news from General Electric Co. that it is developing a new rocket engine capable of launching a satellite weighing as much as 20,000 pounds—almost seven times bigger than the Soviet Sputnik III.

This engine, the company said, will generate up to a million pounds of thrust. This compares with 45,000 pounds for the Vanguard.

Components of the engine now are being tested by the GE rocket engine section at Malta, N.Y. It will be powered by liquid oxygen and kerosene, the same fuels used in the first stage of the Vanguard.

Countdown Delayed

The latest Vanguard blasted off at 12:01 a.m. after delays of 2½ hours in the countdown. It was the third effort to get this particular rocket off its launching pad.

Its first stage functioned nicely, carrying the entire assembly to an altitude of 35 miles before burning out at the proper moment. By then, it was out of sight in the Florida sky.

Bomarc Missile Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A swift Boeing Bomarc ground-to-air missile roared off today to intercept an airborne target in a test some 200 miles over the Atlantic.

Bomarc—the Air Force's most highly developed defense missile —streaked straight up into the hazy sky and then arched gently toward the southeast.

68-Ship Force Ready for Action

U.S. 6th Fleet Remains Alert in Mediterranean

ABOARD THE USS DES MOINES (AP) — This powerful cruiser, flagship of America's Mediterranean watchdog fleet, steamed abreast the heavily laden tanker only 100 feet away. Both continued their 12-knot pace, rolling slightly in the gentle swell off Crete.

The Des Moines filled its huge fuel tanks, let go the pipes which connected it with the tanker and drew ahead. Then the 60,000-ton aircraft carrier Saratoga moved up and took on fuel for its own voracious engines and its 100 jet planes.

Nearby other aircraft carriers, destroyers, troop carriers and submarines took aboard from supply ships the things needed by the fleet's community of 35,000 sailors and marines.

Between dawn and noon more than 50 fighting ships and troop transports had completely restocked. They didn't stop or change course. They plowed steadily ahead through the eastern Mediterranean with a wary eye on troubled little Lebanon.

Through this well-practiced seamanship, repeated almost weekly in heavy seas or smooth, the 6th Fleet can keep its eyes—and its guns and planes—trained indefinitely on Lebanon or any other Mediterranean hot spot.

The fleet, 68 ships including the supply vessels, is completely mobile and self-sustaining. It needs no shore bases and has none. It stays constantly on the move.

Confer With City Officials

Fire Inspectors Reveal Shortcomings in Marion

Railroad underpasses, more firemen, one or two additional fire stations, larger water storage facilities, some larger water mains and adoption of building and fire prevention codes are among the things needed to bring Marion's fire protection more nearly up to par.

These and other deficiencies in the city fire protection were reported to members of City Council and the administration at a meeting held Wednesday night in City Hall.

The reports were made by a three-man team from the National Board of Fire Underwriters now completing a two-week survey of the city's fire protection.

Nathan Odell, chief of the team, emphasized that the reports were based only on initial observations. He said that all reports of and recommendations of the team are subject to review and revision by the National Board's home office in New York.

Recommendations made by the National Board as a result of the survey will be a determining factor in establishing Marion's fire insurance rates in the future.

Each of the three men studied different aspects of city fire protection. Mr. Odell studied the fire department; Carl Frick inspected the water company facilities and William Proper investigated the city's fire prevention facilities.

In his report, Mr. Odell said that one of the greatest needs is additional manpower in the fire department. He said that there also should be at least one assistant fire chief and if possible

Paul Gregory Sounds Off

Programming Troubles Voiced by TV Producer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, says producer Paul Gregory, needs to get rid of its "hysterical button pushers."

They are major reasons why programing exhibits timidity and mediocrity, he feels.

A showman of relentless energy who operates in the three worlds of TV, theater and movies, Gregory is a provider of special projects under contract to the CBS network. His criticism is of other than network representatives.

"A major complaint I've got is the areas of approval given to some star and agency people, so that things keep fluctuating right up to show time and you never are able to get what you want into a mold that jells," he asserts.

"If TV is going to do big shows in the future, then they've bloody well got to keep such characters away from the programs."

Although he doesn't know how or why such interference developed, the dark-browed Gregory is ready to start making some changes of his own henceforth.

"For the first time I've read the small print in a contract," he says, "and on shows from now on I'm not going to bend."

The creator during the past several years of such TV specials as "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," "Three for Tonight" and "Crescendo," Gregory is tentatively contemplating a spectacle for late fall about the greats of filmland.

The idea struck him when he became fascinated by the footprints which are embedded in the sidewalk of Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood.

His plans however are subject to swift change—a Gregory tradition—for he is currently plunging into Broadway work after an interlude of moviemaking.

The screen production of "The Naked and the Dead," having been completed, he is bringing "Marriage -GRoodu- nt'sarrgni "Marriage - Go-Round" staring Charles Boyer and Claudette Colbert to Broadway this fall.

Auto Mats Stolen

Theft of the front and rear floor mats from a Danner Buick Co. automobile while it was parked at the Marion Country Club Tuesday night was reported to sheriff's deputies Wednesday by Fred Keck, service manager at the agency. He told deputies the car had been driven to the Country Club by Carl Danner. The floor mats were valued at $12.50, deputies were told.

Crawford Dairy Group Acquires Booth at Fair

BUCYRUS — The Crawford County Dairy Service Unit has purchased the booth at the Crawford County Fairgrounds here from the Tri-Township Fire Department, officers of the unit announced here today.

The unit plans to cooperate with the 4-H Junior Leadership Club in operating a dairy products bar during the county fair.

The top three Dairy Herd Improvement Association herds in milk production during May belonged to C. R. Sours of Mount Zion, Harrer Brothers of New Washington and John Spreng of North Robinson, according to Edward Wagner of Bucyrus.

Students Have It Too Easy, Conference Told

Educator Claims More Work Needed

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—The younger generation won't like this, but here's a man who says they've got it too easy in school. He's convinced they need more work to keep their minds from growing rusty.

Dr. Banesh Hoffmann of Queens College in New York says American students have developed lazy mental habits. And he says there are but two cures: Better and tougher teachers, and a different approach to education by American parents.

Dr. Hoffmann, a theoretical physicist, is waging his own one-man campaign against soft education. He hopes to spread some of his theories among the 1,000 other educators gathered here for the 13th annual convention on teacher education and professional standards.

"I demand a lot of my students," he said in an interview today. "I'm tough with them. And when I show them I mean business, I get a lot more out of them. What teachers have to do is first get the student's interest, and then pull him along as fast as possible."

For the development of better teachers, Dr. Hoffmann advocates full four-year college course of liberal arts, without a single hour of professional education courses. After that, he said, the prospective teacher can have a year of apprentice teaching. During this fifth year he can also take his education courses.

But the best teachers of the world aren't going to get the job done until the American public gets over its mistrust of specialization, Hoffmann declared.

"People think it's bad for their kids to specialize," he said. "They think it makes them narrow. That isn't true.

"If a student digs deeply into even one subject, he'll never be satisfied with shallowness in another. But when you get only a superficial smattering of everything, you never learn the trick of going deeply into any subject."

Average Age of Fathers In U.S. Shows Declines

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Fathers are getting younger, it seems.

A greeting card company checked national statistics and found that the average age for becoming a father in the United States has dropped from 27 to 25 in the last 48 years. Early marriages are responsible, according to the records.

In 1955 the average American male was just under 23 when he married, but in 1910 he was 25. Today slightly more than 60 per cent of married men under 25 have children. Just before World War II. only 50 per cent of the same age group had become parents.

New Jet Plane Armed With Airborne Six-Gun

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The Air Force's newest jet fighter-bomber, the Republic F-105 Thunderchief, packs an "airborne six-gun" capable of outshooting a 400-man infantry company.

The Air Force said the 20-millimeter Vulcan automatic cannon is four times as fast as any other gun flying. It is capable of firing 6,000 rounds a minute — more firepower than an infantry company could generate in 20 minutes, Republic engineers said.

The new cannon has a rotating cluster of six barrels.

ANY TAKERS?

Mideast Demonstration Area

Two fixed ideas about the trouble and the possibility of more serious trouble in Lebanon loom so large they blot out everything else.

One is the idea that Egypt's President Nasser is master-minding a plot to overrun Lebanon and by so doing stamp out its pro-Western influence on the border of the United Arab Republic.

The other is the idea that the United States is committed to go to Lebanon's defense under the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Both ideas are too shaky to be relied on for firm conclusions.

President Nasser is in no better position to master-mind a plot to overrun Lebanon than Charles de Gaulle was in to take control of France. He undoubtedly has given a great deal of thought to the possibility, but in the showdown he almost certainly has been as much of a slave to his "plotting" as its master.

His devotion to Arab unification, which has driven him into some ticklish arrangements with the Soviet Union, always eager and ready to lend a hand where trouble is brewing, is clearly stronger than his devotion to any scheme that might make him a puppet of Moscow.

This is a charitable view of President Nasser, who has been saddled with the blame for more mischief than he would generate with his own steam.

But whether Nasser is the culprit in Lebanese disturbances, or one of the victims, it is unlikely that the Eisenhower Doctrine could apply to the danger created.

Sect. 2 of the doctrine says:

"If the President determines the necessity thereof, the United States is prepared to use armed forces to assist any such (Middle East) nation or group of such nations requesting assistance against armed aggression from any country controlled by international Communism."

The use of U.S. troops would be limited by treaty obligations and the Constitution. Furthermore, the nation attacked by a force identified with international Communism would have to request U.S. aid before any aid would be forthcoming.

Lebanon is one of the demonstration areas where the United States is reminded forcibly that peace is not attainable on the terms of peacemakers but only on the terms of those willing and ready to use violence.

It may be President Nasser who is willing and ready to use violence. It may be the revolting Lebanese who want violence. It may be Syria. Violence might conceivably be traced to the United Arab Republic (Egypt and Syria) or it might be the Soviet Union, which charges in turn that the United States wants violence.

No one can be sure, which may be, in itself, part of the demonstration.

No Restrictions on Invitation

Meade Alcorn, Republican national chairman, has revealed why there is a moral issue about Sherman Adams.

This is one of three issues about the assistant president, all three closely related but separate.

The first issue is whether Mr. Adams improperly used influence to get favors for his friend Bernard Goldfine and whether Mr. Goldfine got any favors. This is the issue before the House subcommittee on legislative oversight.

The second issue is whether Mr. Adams destroyed his usefulness as a public servant in the Eisenhower administration by accepting gifts from Mr. Goldfine in amounts that he concedes reflected his bad judgment in accepting them. This is the issue before the politicians.

The moral issue—not to be confused with the issue before the politicians—is whether it is justifiable to single out one man for doing what many men do routinely and thereby to make one man a scapegoat. This is the issue before Americans who are not involved in government.

Chairman Alcorn has challenged Senate Democrats to come out from behind the "congressional fifth" and testify what may have influenced them to try to influence one or more of the regulatory commissions.

Chairman Paul Butler of the Democratic national committee might challenge Senate Republicans just as properly to do the same thing.

The people of the United States are in a mood to wonder who it is that is so without sin that he can cast stones—not because they condone what Mr. Adams did when he "erred in judgment" but because they do not condone what other public figures do when they sit in judgment.

Unless they are willing to be judged, they should refrain from judging—and some of them have shown they are unwilling to be judged.

Sweetcornstalk Bloc

Everybody knows about the cornstalk bloc—rural legislators who band together to keep cities at a disadvantage in state legislatures.

The same thing happens in Congress. But delegates to a meeting of urban planners, educators and spokesmen for business, labor and political organizations meeting in Washington last week pointed to something else that has been happening.

The cornstalk bloc has been joined by a sweetcornstalk bloc—suburbanites who have no more in common with the interest of big-city legislators than farmers traditionally have had.

A former Democratic mayor of Philadelphia, Joseph S. Clark, now a U.S. senator from Pennsylvania, and Charles P. Taft, a former Republican mayor of Cincinnati, could agree that Republican farmers and suburbanites were arrayed generally against Democratic urbanites in state legislatures and in Congress. Neither could see any solution to the problem raised by the apparently irreconcilable interests of the two blocs.

In the future, when the cornstalk bloc is being cussed out for thwarting city slickers, harsh words should not be spared for urbanites who raise sweet corn in their garden patches. They like to thwart city slickers, too, if for no other reason than that city slickers run strongly to Democrats these days and suburbanites run strongly to Republicans.

New Challenge

An increase in the Community Foundation budget for next year will call for a corresponding increase in effort to meet the goal when the United Appeals campaign is staged this fall.

The foundation's budget is $8,076 higher, mostly because of the addition of two agencies into membership. These are the Marion County Mental Health Association and the Marion Union Rescue Mission, which was a provisional member last year.

Also contributing to the increase were justified salary boosts for personnel in some of the member agencies.

Higher budgets were approved for the Salvation Army, YMCA, Boy Scout and Marion Dental Clinic. Budgets for two funds, Fresh Air and Emergency Welfare, and for the Family Service Society remained the same. Two agencies, the Girl Scouts and USO, had decreases.

The budgets of all the agencies in the foundation were given careful scrutiny, and all non-essential requests were cut.

The board of United Appeals, when it meets Monday, will add the foundation's total budget of $131,118 to the Red Cross and Cancer Society budgets to arrive at a goal for this fall's fund drive.

A vigorous campaign is planned to give the county its second victory by victory night. The challenge of a higher goal may be just the stimulus needed to make the effort successful.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

There are predictions Sherman Adams will bow out, not because of any wrongdoing but because he will choose to sacrifice himself rather than harm the President or the Republican party. Imaginary letter of resignation:

Dear Mr. President: Let us face it. I appreciate your words "I need him," but there is no deluge of similar statements from GOP election candidates. Some want me declared a "disaster area."

I stand on my lifelong rep for honesty but I place my interests so far below yours and the party's that I would not take an outside chance of hurting either.

I must admit that while I knew I was not the popularity contest type, I never expected to be called the Albatross of the Year.

MY ONLY ERRORS, as I said, have been errors of judgment, not intent, but in politics, as in baseball, the scoreboard has no section marked "Imprudences." This is a crucial ball game and I invited the beanball, perhaps, by standing too close to the plate, refusing to wear a helmet and swinging a bat with ice on the handle.

Truth seldom catches up with charges. Sir Galahad, whose strength was "as the strength of ten because his heart was pure," would have heard cries of "Throw the bum out" if he had ever taken a bottle of armor plate polish from an old friend in the polish industry.

Were I the White Prince, Horatius at the Bridge, McAuliffe at Bastogne and Dewey at Manila too many voters might cry, "What of it? He goofed."

Your opponents are crying, "Set 'em up in the next alley," as they make you the target in a yen to knock over all Eisenhower tenpins. I get the picture.

To get the point, I still cherish my "I Like Ike" button and don't want it discredited. I enlisted to help you and the party and would not be serving either well if I continued in a spot where the "Outs" can plaster the "ins," aiming at me but yelling, "Close, but no cigar" if they don't hit YOU.

New Hampshire is restful in the summer, which is more than can be said of Washington in any season.

Love,
Sherman.

CHEMISE BATHING SUITS are not on beach hit paraders to any great extent. The gals are too proud of their figures, especially before large outdoor audiences. Beaches are for form displays. (It is okay to cover the waterfront but not to cover the waterfront dolls.) What lifeguard would bother to rescue a chick who looked like a floating burlap bag?

In any summit conference with Moscow the summit is reached on the elevator clearly marked "DOWN."

Indignation of Democrats is not so high over the fact Adams did favors for friends but that he had any.

Monticello in the Catskills is opening a big trotting track. The ghost of Rip Van Winkle is reported crazy over horses, while the dwarfs are swapping bowling balls for racing charts.

Word From Below

Coats and Votes

By David Lawrence

It's an ill wind that blows no good—and it looks now as if the Adams affair will be of more benefit to the country in a reform sense than has been supposed. Also, if the Republicans are astute politicians, they will seize the issue and benefit by it.

Lawrence

The issue, in a nutshell, is not just the gift of a $200 coat or a $2,000 hotel bill but the gift of $725,000 to elect a United States senator and the known and formally reported expenditure of $2,200,000 by labor unions to elect a Democratic congress.

Important legislation to check abuses of power by labor unions is pending in Congress today and may be blocked in the house.

It is being assumed that the coat and hotel bill "bought" influence. If this kind of assumption were accepted—and this seems to be "public opinion" as interpreted by the critics of Sherman Adams—then logically it would become pertinent to ask if the present Congress has been "bought."

IN A RECENT speech, printed in the Congressional record, Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn (R-NY) said:

"In the 1956 elections organized labor was active in 300 of the 435 congressional district elections and were successful—that means that their man got elected—in more than 175 . . . .

"Let's look at just one campaign, in 1954, by one union, for one senator. Special election radio and TV broadcasts cost for time only, with no allowance for staff, script preparation, reprints of talks, was $250,000.

"Special election editions of regular publications, extra copies to distribute outside the regular union membership ran to another $175,000. And then, on top of all this, this union hired 500 'special organizers'—payroll title for political workers—at $20 per day for the 30 days just before the election. This cost another $300,000, exclusive of expenses or other services.

"This gives us a total of $725,000 spent by the United Automobile Workers, CIO, in support of Sen. McNamara in Michigan in 1954. . . .

"If the unions spent only half as much in the 30 senatorial contests in 1956 as they spent in Michigan in 1954, it would amount to 150 million dollars."

Mr. Gwinn, who made a special study of the subject, estimates that at least 62 million dollars is spent "for political purposes annually, or a total of 124 million dollars for each biannual election of members of the House and Senate."

"Is it any wonder," explains Mr. Gwinn, "that few pieces of legislation pass contrary to the recommendations of the leaders of organized labor?"

IT IS, of course, only an assumption that members of Congress are influenced in their voting on labor subjects by the gifts their campaign funds received from labor unions.

But the critics in Congress are assuming the same thing with respect to the telephone calls of Sherman Adams to federal agencies, notwithstanding the testimony of the members of these commissions that no improper influence was exerted.

It is only fair, therefore, to assume also, in the absence of proof, that Sen. McNamara would not allow any campaign gifts or contributions to influence him in his votes.

Another Michigan senator, Truman H. Newberry, resigned in November 1922 after a furor over the fact that, in the primary and election contests in 1918, about $195,000 had been spent—largely for advertising and publicity—in his behalf in the ordinary course of the campaigns. The Senate in 1922 adopted a resolution stating "that the expenditure of such excessive sums in behalf of a candidate, either with or without his knowledge and consent, being contrary to sound public policy, harmful to the honor and dignity of the Senate and dangerous to the perpetuity of a free government, such excessive expenditures are hereby severely condemned and disapproved."

SEN. RICHARD Neuberger (D-Ore), who received $23,250 in contributions from the labor unions in his last campaign, evidently doesn't believe now that it's a good thing to accept such gifts and he is one of the few courageous members of Congress to say so today. Here is an excerpt from the transcript of the NBC television show last Sunday called "Youth Wants To Know":

"Moderator Steve McCormick: Do you think that President Truman was in error in not firing Gen. Vaughan?

"Sen. Neuberger: Oh, I don't think so and, as I say, you've not heard me on this program say that President Eisenhower should fire Mr. Adams. Now, if we're going to fire everybody in government who has taken a gift or a big campaign contribution, that's another thing.

"Moderator McCormick: You mean there'll be no one left in Washington, senator?

"Sen. Neuberger: Oh, you might find one or two."

The Oregon senator has introduced a bill to provide a "conflict of interest" code for members of Congress, and he says that "in this country we can get much more excited about a deep freeze, a kitchen appliance or a rug—an item of household furnishing—than we can get excited about millions of dollars in campaign expenditures."

The plain lesson of it all is that members of both parties who discuss the Adams case should be asked by the newspapers in each such locality to make public during the coming campaign the gifts of a personal as well as a political nature they have received. Then the American people can make up their own minds whether it is merely a coincidence or improper influence when some member of Congress votes the way that could benefit the givers of campaign money.

Spoiling for a Fight

By Truman Twill

It looks to me as if so many people in this country were spoiling for a fight that they are disappointed when no one gets a bloody nose.

These are not the people who would do the punching or the receiving if a fight started, however. They are the spectators.

They are the fight-watchers, the coat-holders, always ready to accommodate anyone who will take off a jacket and start swinging.

They are the eavesdroppers straining to catch an angry overtone or an unkind word so they can build it into a feud. They are politicians waiting to fish in turbulent waters.

They are the kids who used to jam brooms into the wheels of moving bicycles to see the spokes get ripped out and tie cans to puppy dog tails to hear the commotion.

What they yearn for never-endingly is action. They do not think they are getting their money's worth at a basketball game unless they are yelling for the referee's blood. They are disappointed in a football game that does not lead to fisticuffs.

They want all baseball games to end in bat-swinging brawls and all prizefights and wrestling exhibitions to end in riots.

They want government to be an endless competition in dog-eating, and their enthusiasm for representative democracy runs highest when someone is in the pillory being plastered with half-decayed vegetables.

They cannot comprehend, much less sympathize with, a society whose members argue without using guns, stilettos, razors and clubs.

They cannot get the hang of a country in which men can have differences of opinions without fighting duels to the death.

They can detect bad will, suspicion and intent to do bodily injury in the cocking of an eyebrow, or the inflection of a syllable. From where they sit, peering down a hole at the sewers of human nature, their greatest disappointment is a fight that did not damage anyone, a dispute that failed to end in blows, a difference of opinion that didn't produce an ouster, a strain on friendship that didn't break it up permanently, a rumor that failed to turn into an official charge and a marital spat that cooled off before it reached the divorce court.

They do not understand why peacemakers should be blessed, because they get into the way of robust characters with an itch to be getting on with the main order of business, which is settling everything with a good fight, preceded by a scandal and followed by a post-mortem.

Russians Revert to Form

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Soviets are getting tougher and nastier and in a way that shows disregard for what the world thinks. A few months ago they were breaking their backs to win a propaganda war.

By their recent actions they've handed the West made-in-Moscow propaganda for use against them. They're too smart not to know it. This contempt for world opinion is the most startling aspect of the changes taking place in Soviet foreign policy.

They spent months trying to convince the world they wanted a summit talk and an end to nuclear testing. Then, deliberately, they all but blew up any chance for the talk or an agreement on testing. Their latest performance was Wednesday night.

MEANWHILE, but again deliberately and savagely, they shocked the world by announcing the execution of Imre Nagy, the former Hungarian premier, and some of his aides. It indicated a resumption of terror, death and bloody purges.

This is the background of what's happened although no one yet has pretended to know all the answers why:

Last fall the Soviets made a smashing propaganda follow-up on their blazing Sputnik successes by proposing a summit talk to President Eisenhower. The Eisenhower administration was slow reacting and for a few months the Soviet Union had a clear edge.

Then the administration began answering and the proposals and counter-proposals became a tug-of-war too complicated for the average man around the world to follow. Because both sides began arguing details, neither made propaganda hay.

THE SOVIETS said they wanted summit talks, willy-nilly. The United States said it wanted preparations for such talks. Last April Moscow agreed to the West's ambassadors should try to work out preparations for the summit meeting.

The two sides remained miles apart. Neither yielded any ground. But on June 11 Premier Khrushchev startled the world with a letter practically abandoning hope for a summit meeting. He blamed the West, of course. But Eisenhower was able to hit back: "The whole thing has been a great setback to my hopes."

IN SHORT, the Soviets put themselves, no matter what they claimed, in the position of being blamed for knocking a summit conference out the window.

At the same time the Soviets were working the other side of the street too, making more propaganda with their plea for a ban on nuclear testing. The West took the position that before a ban there must be a foolproof way of preventing cheating.

More argument. Finally, it was pretty well agreed the Soviet Union and the West would send scientists to Geneva to discuss ways of policing any nuclear tests.

Measure of Success

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

One way a movie star measures success is by the time he has to spend with lawyers.

"Bill, you're really getting up in the world," a lawyer said to actor William Holden recently. "Your first contract ran to only 21 pages. Your latest one is over 100."

HAL BOYLE

Another measure of stardom now is the distance an actor travels each year.

Holden, an Oscar winner and one of America's golden top 10 boxoffice draws, estimates he has traveled 600,000 miles in the last five years.

"I'll do 150,000 this year," he said during a luncheon pause here on his way to the West Coast. The day before he had been in Paris, the day before that in Rome.

BILL, WHOSE latest picture was made in England, says the movie industry has changed basically since he became an overnight star in "Golden Boy." That was 42 pictures and 20 years ago.

Then a star could get by on acting talent and personality. Today, under many profit-sharing deals, he not only has to act in the picture—he has to go out and beat the bushes to sell it, both here and abroad.

With the possible exception of Bob Hope, Holden has no rival as a world ambassador without portfolio for Hollywood. Friendly as a wink, Bill gives foreigners the same impression as he does the folks at home—that here is that nice boy next door, grown a bit older, but still doing his best to make the neighborhood a chummier place for all.

Despite his wide roving, Holden has managed to maintain an air of privacy.

"The public doesn't concern itself with me except in my line of work," he said. "I don't think they are interested in me personally."

"A majority of people think me pretty dull."

HE IS anything but that. But he maintains an interior remoteness behind his friendly, casual manner.

"I concern myself with the particular personal problems everyone has to," he said. "But I'm not afraid of anything. I enjoy life."

What are the rules for survival in Hollywood? Holden grinned.

"If I really knew the answer to that, I'd set up an office and sell the information to other people—sparingly."

HOLDEN SAYS his goal is very simple.

"It's to retire. I'd like to make a contribution of some kind to this business, and then get out of it.

"I don't like acting. I never did. Acting with me has only been a means to an end—an end I don't even know.

"I've worked for 20 years, and I'm still about where I started. I'd quit in a moment if I could afford to.

"If I had the money and my druthers, I'd like to tie up with some organization such as the National Geographic Society and go on archeological and exploring expeditions that might in some way help man better understand man."

Confusion Restored

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Neighbors of identical twins Richard and Robert Galloway, 7, at last had a means of telling them apart when Robert turned up two weeks ago with a broken left arm in a sling.

Then Richard had his turn.

Results: identical plaster casts, identical left slings — identical twins.

Nancy Jo Indoe Becomes Bride of Walter E. Dasher

Following a wedding trip through Pennsylvania, Marylanu, the Alleghenies and West Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eugene Dasher, who were married on June 8, will be at home after July 1 in a newly-built residence on the Morral-Kirkpatrick Pk.

Previous to her marriage, Mrs. Dasher was Miss Nancy Jo Indoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Indoe of 239 E. Church St. Mr. Dasher's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Dasher of near Marion.

Epworth Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding and the double ring ceremony was read at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon by the pastor, the Rev. Robert A. Byler. Two beauty baskets of white gladioli and white shasta pompons, two altar vases of white carnations, palms and candelabra decorated the altar. Mrking the family pews were white satin bows.

PRESENTING pre - nuptial music were Mrs. George Lane, organist, and George Lane, vocalist.

The bride wore for her wedding a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline, brief shirred sleeves and an extremely bouffant skirt of alternating tiers of lace and tulle worn over a hoop. Mitts ended in points over her hands. Her fingertip veil of imported silk English illusion was caught to an all-pearl crown. She carried a white handkerchief, a gift from the bridegroom's mother, and her bouquet was a semi-cascade arrangement of white shasta pompons surrounded with yellow shasta pompon buds and tied with white ribbon streamers. Her jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls and earrings, gifts from the bridegroom. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Patricia Jo Fetter was the bride's maid of honor and only attendant. Her ballerina length gown was of white flowered nylon over yellow taffeta. It had a scoop neckline, capped sleeves and a flared skirt accented with a yellow taffeta cummerbund and a large bow in the back. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, gifts from the bride, a band of yellow shasta pompons in her hair and her bouquet was of pale yellow shasta pompons with green lace backing, carrying out the bride's wedding colors of yellow and green.

Yellow shasta pompons encircled the base and white tapers were held in silver candelabra. Hostesses were Mrs. Lowell Jones, Mrs. Gene Zahn and Miss Donna Eller, all of Marion.

When the couple left on their wedding trip, Mrs. Dasher was wearing a blue rayon-linen dress with white accessories.

Miss Rice, Richard E. Dutt Say Vows in Church Here

Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren Church was the scene of the wedding Sunday of Miss Carol Joan Rice and Richard E. Dutt.

The couple repeated their vows at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon before the altar decorated with vases of white gladioli and gypsophilia against a background of huckleberry foliage, palms and lighted candles in two seven-branch candelabra. Huckleberry foliage combined with pink and white daisies decorated the candelabra.

Officiating for the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Robert Williman, pastor of the church. A program of pre-nuptial music was presented by Richard Brady, organist, and Mervyn Matteson, vocalist.

THE BRIDE is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rice of near Marion and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Dutt of Smeltzer Rd.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace. The bodice of lace was styled with a Sabrina neckline and short cap sleeves. The full skirt, with a slight brush train, had separated panels set in and embroidered with sequin trim. Her fingertip circular veil was of imported English illusion and attached to a tiara fashioned of lace and edged in seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, white carnations and gypsophilia and showered with white ribbon streamers. A pair of pearl earrings, gift from the bridegroom, was her jewelry.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her cousin, Miss Vivian Cocherl, who was attired in a ballerina length gown of lace over pink taffeta in a princess style with a softly rounded neckline accented by a nylon chiffon streamer down the back. She wore a white head piece dotted with tiny seed pearls and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and gypsophilia.

BRIDESMAIDS were Miss Jean Dutt, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Joan Biggerstaff who wore identical gowns in an aqua shade and carried bouquets of tinted carnations.

Miss Tamara Lynne Rice, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Her floor length dress was of pink taffeta and nylon net with rhinestones sprinkling the neckline edged in lace. The small bouquet she carried was of pink carnations and the tiara in her hair was of tiny pink flowers. She wore white nylon gloves.

Gary Seiter served as best man while Dennis Rice, brother of the bride, Kenneth Thorpe and Robert Lill ushered the guests to their seats. Lighting the candles were David Rice, brother of the bride, and Miss Myra Dutt, siter of the bridegroom.

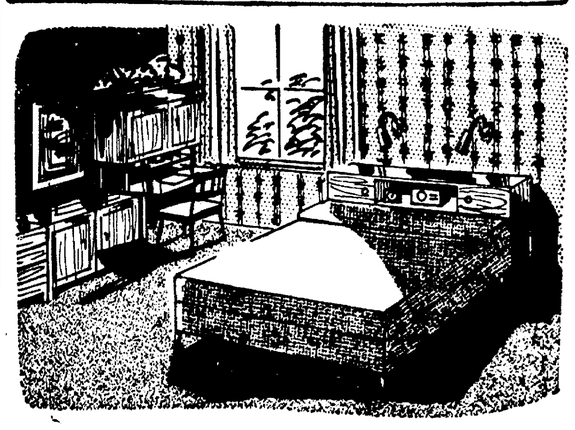
Adding CHARM to YOUR Home



Rooms Can Change Character

Character, says Webster, is the aggregate of qualities that distinguishes one person or thing from others. And rooms, like people, have character. Unlike people, it is relatively simple to change the character of a room.

The way to change a room's character is to plan a new background and color scheme that conveys the new mood you wish to express. Then appoint the room with accessories that contribute to that mood.

The difference between a room with a formal Regency character and one with a Modern or Contemporary feeling is the difference between striped silks, satins and damasks and textured cottons and plastics; between dull gold, deep red and Regency green and beige, grey, and natural tones with strong color accents.

It is well to remember that well-designed furniture with clean, simple lines will change character easily, and adapt itself to its surroundings and the company it keeps.

A new background of tawny beige with rough-textured wallpaper with broken vertical lines, and a new room arrangement gives the bedroom sketched above a masculine character and a good Contemporary feeling.

Storage pieces lined up along one wall save space, give room an uncluttered look. Pale citron-colored carpet adds a note of sophistication. Citron has been repeated in the draperies.

Changing the character of one room or your entire home need not be a costly project. Often just a new furniture arrangement, the addition of one new piece will turn the trick. Come in today, see our new groups of beautifully designed pieces that will fit into any setting.

Revival of Stand-By Consumer Credit Control Under Study

Government Weighs Curb On Inflation

Administration May Ask for Authority in Reversal of Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rising concern over inflation has led some key administration officials to consider a revival of stand-by consumer credit controls.

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, it was learned today, is among those who feel it might be advisable to ask Congress for power to regulate down payments and installment terms on autos and appliances.

Fear Deficit's Effects

Anderson and others were described as fearful that the big federal deficits looming ahead—perhaps 10 billion dollars in the year starting July 1 — will help fuel the flames of inflation unless the government is alerted and equipped for fire fighting.

The stand-by credit authority idea looks to the period after the recession. Until then, informants emphasized, the government will continue to foster business recovery by every means at hand, including "easy money" — cheap and ample credit.

Officials want no recurrence of the pattern which followed the 1953-54 recession. The 1954 upturn blossomed into 1955's credit-buying binge. That was followed by a two-year rise is living costs — which hasn't stopped yet — and a sudden business slump.

Reverses Position

A request for stand-by legislation would mark some shift from the strict anticontrol policy of the Eisenhower administration, and Anderson's receptive attitude is a complete reversal of the Treasury's position on the issue.

Anderson reportedly believes that simply having the law on the books though unused, might deter the competitive cutting of credi standards which marked the 1955 auto sales boom.

Fleet

Twelve of its vessels—tankers and refrigerator, ammunition, repair and supply ships—comprise its "floating base." They come and go to restock themselves, usually to the United States except for oil. In one year they furnish the fleet with five million barrels of various fuels, 20,000 tons of provisions, and tens of thousands of items from flashlight bulbs to spare jet engines.

But the fleet's fighting ships, its 200 to 300 aircraft, its 2,000 to 4,000 Marines, its landing craft, tanks, missiles and artillery, are kept constantly free of shore ties, shore politics, shore commitments, putting in port only briefly for recreation.

The Blum Run carries drainage from a large portion of the northeast section of the city. Opponent petitioners said they want to know whether all benefiting properties would be assessed equally or whether assessments would be levied according to the degree of benefit as is the procedure in other county ditch projects.

Commisisoners said the property owners still may reject the proposed improvements at the next hearing if the method of payment for the project is unsatisfactory to them.

The Browne and Associates master sewer plan for the city calls for the installation of an 87 by 136-inch tile. This construction, however, would cost more than $700,000.

One property owner this morning asked if the proposed improvements would be wiped out in the event it was decided to follow the master plan at a future date. Mr. Ours said the proposed project was a temporary measure and that one couldn't be sure how long it would remain in effect.

Commissioner Howard McCurdy said that if the master plan was followed engineers would be forced to excavate solid rock when they reached the Fair Park section.

16 Plants Here Have Perfect Safety Record

Sixteen Marion industries reported they had no lost-time accidents during May at the regular meeting of the Marion Industrial Safety Council held Wednesday noon at Hotel Harding.

There also was a discussion of current industrial plant accidents and steps being taken to prevent their recurrence.

A motion picture on "Vacation Safety" which illustrated methods of avoiding various vacation hazards was shown by DeMar King, vice chairman of the group.

It was also announced that the next regular meeting of the group will be held on Sept. 24 at the hotel with W. Max Hamblin serving as program chairman.

The 16 plants with no lost time accidents in May were: Alloy Cast Steel Co., American Malleable Castings Co., Arro Expansion Bolt Co., Borden Dairy Co., B. F. Goodrich Co., Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co., Commercial Steel Castings Co., Erie Railroad, General Telephone Co., Harding High Vocational Shop, Marion Metal Products Co., New York Central Railroad, Ohio Edison Co., Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Quaker Oats Co. and the Whirlpool Corp.

Supreme Court Asked To Rule on Little Rock

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today was asked to hold a special session to rule on a lower court order delaying school integration in Little Rock, Ark., for 2½ years

Two attorneys petitioned the high tribunal to hear arguments immediately and overturn the order by U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley.

The attorneys suggested that the Supreme Court permit bypassing of the Circuit Court and that the high tribunal consider the case promptly so the issue may be settled before the next school term opens in September.

The Supreme Court plans to adjourn for the summer after a session next Monday. The petition asked that the court either extend its present term or hold a special term in order to dispose of the Little Rock case promptly.

two, that there should be an officer in charge of each of the four city and one township fire companies, that one and possibly two new fire stations should be built and equipped and that there should be a drill master and a fire fighting training program in the department.

Compliments Department

Mr. Odell said also that some additional two-way radio equipment is needed on city fire trucks, that the city has a poor record of new fire alarm box purchases during the last 18 years but that the fire alarm system itself is up to National Board standards. He also complimented the fire department for its efficiency in keeping its equipment in good working order and for the personal appearance of the firemen and their "good housekeeping" at the fire stations.

It was Mr. Odell who said he noted that despite the number of railroad crossings, the city has only one railroad underpass.

Because of the possible delay of fire apparatus at the crossings, this lack of underpass or overpasses creates a fire protection hazard and does play a role in the setting of fire insurance rates.

A question as to the effect of one-way streets on fire protection was asked by John Robbins (D-2nd). Joseph Rutter of the Ohio Inspection Bureau said that fire chiefs in some cities prefer to send their equipment the wrong direction over one-way streets. He said the theory is that drivers are better able to see the fire trucks approaching and can get out of their way more easily if the trucks approach one-way traffic from the front rather than the rear.

Mr. Odell said also that the city should not concern itself so much with fire insurance rates as with the personal safety of every resident of the city.

In his report on the inspection of the Water Co., Mr. Frick said that the plant presently is pumping an amount of water about equal to the daily capacity of the wells. Because of this he said more water storage is needed and he noted that the water company currently is taking steps to improve this situation by construction of a dam across the Little Scioto River.

Contracts To Be Signed

Otis Porter, manager of the Marion Water Co., said that contracts for the dam are to be signed within a few days and he said the company plans to add an additional large water storage reservoir, possibly next year. Mr. Frick also said that some of the water mains should be increased in size and he listed a few lesser deficiencies in the city water supply system.

Mr. Proper said the city should have an acceptable building code and a fire prevention code if it is to more nearly meet fire protection standards. Marion presently is in Code 6 or one away from being in the highest fire insurance rating. Fire insurance premiums decrease as a city's classification moves down the scale toward Code 1.

Others attending the meeting last night were Mayor Wendell L. Strong, Safety-Service Director Howard Travis, Emmett Osterholt (R-6th), Ralph Williams (R-4th), Mrs. Norma Jacob (D-5th), Richard Lister (R-at large), John Williams (D-2nd), Forrest Shultz of the Ohio Inspection Bureau and Fire Chief Owen Sifritt.

Agree on Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees agreed today on a compromise tax extension bill eliminating the 3 per cent excise tax on freight.

The House conferees yielded to the Senate on the freight tax repeal.

Men on Relief Work for City

38 Employed Here On Various Projects

Some 38 Marion men who are on city relief roles began today to earn their allotments by working for the city.

Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis said the relief workers are being used on a number of different projects to supplement the regular city crews.

Fourteen men were assigned to Lincoln Park to help clean it up and work on the stadium to prepare it for the annual Fourth of July observance.

Another eight men were assigned to clean storm water catch basins in various sections of the city. Six were detailed to do some work on Forest Lawn Blvd. and five were sent to work at the sewage treatment plant. Another five were assigned to cut weeds and clean debris out of storm ditches at the Municipal Airport.

All city residents on relief will be required from today on to work for each day of relief payments they receive, excepting those who are ill or have a doctor's certificate that they are unable to perform physical labor, Mr. Travis reported.

Storm

inch rainfall which hit the western portion of the county. Thousands of acres of land are under water today.

County Agricultural Agent Lorain Basinger, said this morning a final estimate of the damage will depend on the weather in the next 72 hours. He declared, though, that there would be some crop damage due to the deluge.

Two Barns Leveled

In the northern portion of Hardin County two barns were reported leveled by winds which ripped through the area at 4 p.m. One of these was on the Dale Fredericks farm near Dola; the other was on the Ray Phillips place near Forest where several head of cattle were also killed.

An Ohio Power Co. lineman, Walter Scott of Kenton, working on felled wires and poles near Dola was knocked to the ground by a bolt of lightning.

Ohio Power officials said Mr. Scott was working on the ground near a clothes pole. The lightning apparently hit the pole and jumped across to Mr. Scott knocking him down. He received first aid treatment on the spot and was able to continue working.

Numerous power lines, utility poles and trees were dropped across the northern portion of the county during the storm, officials reported.

High water was reported on several of the county roads and on Rt. 195 in western Hardin County, but none had been closed to traffic this morning.

Gale-force winds whipped a thunderstorm across northeastern Ohio Wednesday night and caused thousands of dollars damage to power and telephone lines. At least five persons were hurt, none seriously.

The winds, clocked by the weather bureau at up to 66 m.p.h. in gusts, uprooted trees and tore off limbs. This was responsible for most of the damage and some injuries.

The hardest-hit communities in this area were Cleveland Heights, South Euclid, East Cleveland, the east side of Cleveland, Lyndhurst, Kirtland Hills, Kirtland Twp. and Berea.

Senate Okays Noble, Haines Appointments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio now has a highway director and a director of mental hygiene and correction — officially. They are Charles M. Noble and Dr. Robert A. Haines, respectively.

After nearly 18 months of waiting, Noble, former New Jersey highway official, late Wednesday night received Ohio Senate confirmation, 28-4, as director of highways.

He waited a year to gain official Ohio residence, then almost a half-year more because the legality of his appointment was questioned, before he achieved director status.

In the interim, he was Gov. C. William O'Neill's special secretary in charge of highways. His salary as O'Neill's secretary was $30,000 a year; it will be the same as highway director.

Dr. Haines won unanimous Senate approval as director of mental hygiene and correction. He was kicked off the state payroll in late March by State Auditor James A. Rhodes on the advice of Atty. Gen. William Saxbe that Dr. Haines' appointment was illegal.

Saxbe held that because the directorship was vacant during the 1957 legislative session, O'Neill had no authority to make an interim appointment after the General Assembly adjourned.

Dr. Haines, aided by State Rep. Robert Taft (R-Hamilton) as his attorney, has appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court to compel Rhodes to put him back on the payroll. Taft argues that Dr. Haines' appointment was legal.

In his message to the special session of the Legislature Wednesday, O'Neill asked for a special appropriation to pay Dr. Haines his $1,500 - a - month salary from March 22 to date. March 22 was when Dr. Haines was dropped from the payroll.

Opposing Noble's confirmation were Sens. Frank Celebrezze, Andrew Putka and Julius Petrash, Cuyahoga County Democrats, and Ross Pepple (R-Allen).

Democratic critics charged that Noble's tenure as a secretary to O'Neill was a subterfuge to circumvent the constitutional provision that appointees to top state offices must be Ohio residents.

Assembly

steadily ahead on Gov. C. William O'Neill's program for quick action to ease unemployment and state financial problems.

In a 26-minute mid-afternoon message to the General Assembly, O'Neill asked another six million dollars to stretch state relief money until the regular session of the Legislature next January. He also urged lawmakers to extend the period of unemployment compensation eligibility until next April from the present 26 weeks to 39 weeks—a move he estimated would pour another 40 million dollars into the state's recession-hit economy.

The AFL-CIO stand on SUB did not prevent House Democrats from introducing a bill to permit simultaneous payment of SUB and state jobless benefits. Chances are, however, the proposal will get nowhere.

House Democrats also offered bills to increase the state jobless benefit limit from $39 maximum to $50 for workers with families and to permit college students to draw unemployment compensation.

Program Introduced

All the bills to carry through O'Neill's special session program were introduced in the House, none in the Senate.

The Senate received the names of 86 appointees for confirmation. They included Dr. Robert A. Haines as director of mental health and correction, who was promptly confirmed, and Charles M. Noble as highway director, who was confirmed 28-4, but only after an hour of bitter political battling.

The governor's prepared address included nothing on SUB, except that he reiterated his belief that, under terms of his call to the Legislature, the SUB issue could be considered.

In a special session, lawmakers may consider only those subjects which the governor specifies.

The House Industry and Labor Committee Wednesday night voted 8-3 against consideration of any of three Democratic bills to liberalize the state unemployment compensation law, including SUB.

That doesn't prevent Democratic attempts to make floor amendments to the administration bill extending the benefit period temporarily.

House committee action approved the extension of the jobless benefit period and a six-million-dollar increase in the poor relief appropriation. Both bills probably will be approved and go to the Senate with little opposition.

Action on bills to ban billboards within 660 feet of the new interstate highway system and to clarify laws governing extension of sewer and water lines outside municipalities was put off until sometime today.

Adams Case Alters Strategy

GOP's Old Pros Revise Fall Campaign Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whatever the surface signs may say, a substantial segment of the old pros of the Republican party have convinced themselves that Sherman Adams is not long for the White House.

This runs contrary to the clear signs President Eisenhower has given that he needs his top assistant and intends to keep him at his right hand.

However, among many of those planning the forthcoming congressional election campaign, the belief persists that steps are being taken to smooth the eventual exit of Adams.

These men are busy revising the campaign strategy because of disclosures that Adams accepted costly favors from Bernard Goldfine of Boston, a textile mill and real estate operator.

One of these strategists, who has maintained friendly relations with Adams, said a concerted effort now is under way to diffuse the attacks on the presidential assistant by reviving influence charges made against Democrats. This would tend to mute any corruption issue in the congressional campaign.

Regulatory agency officials have denied that Goldfine benefited from telephone calls directed to them by Adams.

The administration also has made some strenuous efforts to get Republicans to defend Adams. But it hasn't been able to muster much support among Congress members seeking re-election.

Some Republican strategists hope the President's aide will regard himself as sufficiently vindicated to take himself out of the campaign picture.

They are convinced that even if there remains no valid challenge to his integrity, the Goldfine-paid hotel bills, the gift vicuna coat and the loaned $2,400 Oriental rug will be much hotter campaign issues if Adams remains in the White House than if he leaves.

Probers

Fox had a 3,000-word prepared statement. In it, he went on to say he began to be aware of what he called powerful and malign influences by a department of the federal government in 1954, when it appeared he was overcoming legal difficulties in the way of a Boston parking development in which he was interested.

"I did not know the source of these pressures nor the reason for them," Fox went on, "unless their object was to eliminate the Boston Post, which was the only major newspaper in the United States that supported Harry S. Truman in 1948."

The pressures, Fox said, resulted in forced liquidation of about 13 million dollars in bank loans which were well-secured by marketable securities.

Fox has been named as the source of the first allegations entered into the record of the special House subcommittee that Goldfine got special federal treatment through friendship with Sherman Adams.

In the ensuing storm, Adams acknowledged accepting expensive favors from Goldfine. But he denied ever using his post as President Eisenhower's top aide to swing preferred treatment for his friend.

Law

worth of new sewer developments in the state.

The old law specifiied that property owners along the line of a new sewer should pay for the cost of installing the line on an annual assessment basis. The users paid for the cost of the line's operation.

Last year the Legislature amended the law to provide that at least half the cost of new sewer or water projects in rural areas must be paid for by users instead of all property owners whose land the lines passed.

The old law, its opponents contended, was unfair because farmers who did not use the sewer line were forced to pay a share of its cost.

The compromise reached at the Columbus meeting specifies that:

Any parcel of land larger than eight acres and used exclusively for farming would be excluded from any new sewer district unless the owner applied for inclusion.

Land owners would be required to pay their portion of an "area charge" which would amount to one-fourth of the project's cost. This would apply only to trunk sewer lines or disposal plants.

Property owners who remain out of the project and later request inclusion would be required to pay a tapping charge at a cost not less than the front-foot assessment paid by the properties originally benefited.

Just Checking, Says Harris of Inquiry to FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), chairman of the House subcommittee which touched off the Sherman Adams controversy, says he was only checking on a question of policy when he wrote the Federal Communications Commission recently.

There was no personal involvement, Harris said Wednesday when questioned about a letter last month to FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer.

Harris said he relayed to Doerfer an inquiry from B. J. Parrish of station KOTN in Pine Bluff, Ark., along with a request for a copy of the FCC's reply to Parrish and an explanation of commission policy.

In this case, Parrish protested an application by Jefferson County Broadcasting System for a broadcasting license at Pine Bluff which he said already has three radio stations. The case is due for hearing July 1.

Harris said Parrish is not a constituent of his but added that since he—Harris—is head of the committee which handles general legislation on communications "I asked for policies of the commission which I think I'm entitled to."

Harris said the question he asked Doerfer was how many stations it is FCC policy to allow in a single broadcasting area. Harris said he got a reply from the FCC but he did not make it public.

Escapees

lice said the two men taken into custody told them Gulley had left them Tuesday night and that they didn't know where he went.

Williams and Murphy were picked up at Racine while traveling in a stolen car, Mr. Green was informed Wednesday afternoon. He said police reported the two are being held in West Virginia for questioning concerning robberies there.

The three men also are suspects in a robbery at Ley's Jewelry Store in Bucyrus early the morning of their escape. Merchandise worth $883.20 was stolen from the store at that time.

All three escapees were serving sentences here on burglary charges. Williams and Murphy had been sentenced to 10-25 years in prison.

The men cut their way through bars at a hospital ward window about 3 a.m. June 13 and jumped to the ground from a roof. They scaled the fence at the north side of the property unseen in a rainstorm.

Ashley Marine Begins Serving Life Sentence

KINSTON, N. C. (AP)—A life imprisonment sentence for rape has begun for an Ohio Marine, who Wednesday asked dismissal of his appeal to the North Carolina Supreme Court.

Judge W. J. Bundy in Lenoir County Superior Court granted the motion of Edward Albert Keltner, 26, of Ashley, Ohio. Keltner asked to begin serving his sentnece.

He was convicted last March of raping a teen-age girl last year, but was saved from a mandatory death sentence when the jury recommended mercy. Another Marine was convicted as an accessory and was sentenced to 10 years.

The second Marine was Cpl. Ralph Osborne of Chicago.

Health Officials Okay Pearl St. Sewer Plans

Approval of the plans for the Pearl St. relief sewer was received today from the state department of health, Mayor Wendell L. Strong reported this morning.

Bids for the construction of the sewer were to be opened at noon today in the office of the Safety-Service Director.

The sewer will extend from S. Prospect and Pearl St. to Pearl St. and W. Columbia St. and will serve as a relief sanitary sewer. It is one of the Phase 1 projects recommended in the city's master sewer plan.

Hearing Held On Election at Bucyrus Plant

BUCYRUS — A National Labor Relations Board representative conducted a hearing here Wednesday on a petition filed by the International Association of Machinists (IAM) requesting a representation election among production and maintenance employes of the Bucyrus glass plant of the General Electric Co.

The hearing was held in the law library of the Crawford County Courthouse.

At the present time, the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (UE), Local 704, is certified by the NLRB as bargaining representative for the glass plant employes.

An earlier petition for an election, filed by the IAM last August, was denied by the NLRB on the ground that the national contract between the UE and General Electric was a bar to an election. Later, the IAM appealed the ruling. The appeal was rejected as was another petition for an election. The hearing was ordered after the IAM had appealed the board's rejection of its bid for a new election.

The UE has contended that the 1956-60 national agreement between GE and the UE operated to prevent the holding of an election, a stand upheld last January by the NLRB.

Trainers Jimmy Jones and Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons have won the Preakness four times each.

Strike Settled At Chrysler's Missile Plant

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler's guided missile plant prepared to get back to normal production today as a three-day wildcat strike of a United Auto Workers rebel group ended.

Although protesting, members of the Missile Plant Local 1245 voted Wednesday night to accept an order from the UAW international to return to work or face disciplinary action.

UAW President Walter Reuther, putting local leaders on the carpet, had threatened to place the local under an administrator. This could have meant removal of its officers.

Since Monday, the missiles plant had been picketed in violation of the UAW no-strike policy during its present no-contract period in the auto industry. The union lacks contracts with Chrysler, General Motors and Ford.

Assembly of the Redstone missile and Jupiter rocket was crippled even though Local 1245 represents only 450 of the plant's 8,500 workers.

Strikers charged that Chrysler discriminated against the union minority group in the plant on job assignments and overtime work. Chrysler denied this.

Shipyard Layoff Set

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Another 75 workers at the Americas Ship Building Co. yards will be laid off next week and 100 more will be furloughed next month when a gatelifter derrick boat is finished for the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., a company spokesman said Wednesday night. Last week the compasy laid off 200 workers.

Notes Conflict in Rulings

School Board in Dallas Continues Segregation

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas school board, beset on two sides and bogged down in a legal morass, said Wednesday night its schools will remain segregated in the coming school year.

It pointed toward an apparent conflict between the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling against school segregation and Texas integration laws.

"The board is convinced that it would be a poor service to Dallas and to the large area of the Southwest which may follow the Dallas lead to undertake the activation of the Supreme Court decree until federal and state courts reach some legally acceptable unanimity of opinion," said the board's statement.

Edwin C. Washington Jr., who said he was a field representative of the Dallas branch of the NAACP, said he was "disappointed in the board for its seeming delay in not making a prompt and reasonable start toward integration."

The Rev. R. E. Davis, who said he was president of a local White Citizens Council, said if the board carries out integrations it would be "aiding and abetting the Supreme Court in destroying every vestige of constitutional law and order—shaking the very pillars of the Republic."

The board also authorized its attorney to start action in state courts to solve the legal problems.

The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals July 23, 1957, ordered the Dallas school district, which has roughly 115,000 pupils, integrated. But it did not set a deadline.

The Dallas school board contends it cannot comply with the decree without violating a law passed by the 1956 Texas Legislature.

The state law says a school district cannot integrate without approval in a local option election. If it does, it shall lose state funds and accreditation and authorities shall be fined. No such election has been called by Dallas voters.

Crawford's Farm Bureau Will Meet

BUCYRUS — When the 24th annual stockholders meeting of the Crawford County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association is held here Saturday night, the principal speaker will be Sam Cashman, former state fair manager and at present head of the Market Development and Research Department of the Ohio Farm Bureau.

Mr. Cashman will discuss advances being made in the field of marketing. The meeting will be held in the Cooperative's machinery building on the Plymouth Rd.

A report of operations of the association during the past year will be presented by W. B. Davis, cooperative manager. Two vacancies on the board of directors will be filled. Candidates are Park Stuckman of near Bucyrus, Clifford Heck and Arthur Goodman, both of near Sycamore, and Loren Gledhill of near Galion.

Music will be furnished by the Accordionettes and the Mt. Zion Girls' Ensemble. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Gov. O'Neill Speaks at Girls State Banquet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Governors weren't very hard to find at the inaugural banquet at Buckeye Girls State here Wednesday night—three were present.

Besides Gov. C. William O'Neill, who spoke to the 806 girls attending the government workshop sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, there were Robert Thompson of Warren, governor of the recently ended 1958 Buckeye Boys State, and newly elected Girls State Gov. Sandra Gordon of Canton.

O'Neill told the high school-age girls that a politician has very little private life and is subject to many pressures, but must stand up for what he believes in.

The six state officers of Girls State officially took office at the dinner when sworn in by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The girls will spend this morning getting legislation started through their mythical government. Also on tap is the first meeting of Miss Gordon's cabinet.

This afternoon the entire Girls State delegation will tour state offices here and will end the day with a picnic.

Braves' National League Lead Sliced After 10-2 Defeat at Hands of Giants

EXPERT TEACHER. Mike Edens, seven-year-old Ada youngster, was in Cincinnati Wednesday for his first major league baseball game but received a lesson on marble shooting when rain canceled the game. Peewee Reese, Los Angeles' veteran shortstop, conducts the lesson. Reese was national marble champion in his younger days at Louisville, Ky. (UPI Telephoto)

Champions Unable To Pull Away Despite Mays' Slump

By The Ascsociated Press

"This National League is so tough," insists Manager Bill Rigney of San Francisco, "my guys could win it." Thus far, the race and his Giants have made that boast a toast.

The Giants haven't won two in a row in a month. They haven't had an extra-base hit or a run batted in from Willie Mays in three weeks. And they've played only .333 ball (7-14) since June 1. Yet they've lost only 1½ games to the defending Milwaukee Braves.

Trail St. Louis

They looked like anything but a slumping club Wednesday night, walloping the first-place Braves 10-2 on an unbeatable combination of breaks, hits and pitching. That left the third-place Giants .002 percentage points behind St. Louis. Both challengers are only 2½ games back of Milwaukee. The Cardinals won their fifth straight, 3-1 at Pittsburgh.

Philadelphia avoided a dip to the cellar with a 5-4 decision over the Chicago Cubs in 10 innings. Los Angeles and Cincinnati were idled by rain.

Rain washed out all but one American League game. Kansas City won it 4-3 over Washington.

Errors Aid Giants

The Braves failed to make a big thing of four San Francisco errors. They helped the Giants with two boots in a five-run sixth that broke a scoreless duel. Al Worthington gained a 6-3 record, but after blanking the Braves on four hits for seven innings needed relief help.

The Cardinals won their sixth in a row over the Pirates with a three-run sixth that backed up a three-hitter by Vinegar Bend Mizell.

A pair of errors, a walk, a two-run single by Hal Smith and an RBI single by Curt Flood wrapped it up against rookie George Witt (1-1).

Chico Fernandez rapped a pair of RBI triples for the Phillies, the second breaking things up in the 10th off Don Elston (6-5).

Dick Farrell won his fourth in relief of Ray Semproch, who left in the seventh as the Phils blew a 4-1 lead on Sammy Taylor's double, a walk, Bobby Thomson's single, an infield out and an error.

57 Open Bids For Women's Golfing Crown

DETROIT (AP) —Jackie Pung, the Hawaiian housewife who won, and then lost, the U.S. Women's Open golf title just a year ago, is the sentimental favorite as the field of 57 tees off today in the 1958 Open.

Declared the winner by a single stroke over Betsy Rawls in the 1957 Open, Jackie later was disqualified for attesting to an improper score and Miss Rawls was awarded the championship.

The field, which includes 29 professionals and 28 amateurs, will play 18 hole rounds today and Friday. Ladies par is 37-36—73. The championship will be decided Saturday when the 40 low scorers play 36 holes over the 6,240-yard layout at Forest Lake Country Club.

Six former champions are in the field. Patty Berg, 1946 Open winner, heads the list. Betty Jameson of San Antonio was the 1947 winner, Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, won in 1955 and Mrs. Kathy Cornelius took the title in 1956.

Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., is trying for her third victory. She won in 1949 and 1952. Defending champion Miss Rawls is the all-time Open winner with three victories.

GOLFER'S HANDICAP. Tommy Bolt, National Open Golf Champion, finds himself in a predicament as he practiced for the Long Island, N. Y., Open Tournament Wednesday. The event got under way today. Bolt got into trouble on the first hole, made three straight bogeys and quit the course in a huff. (UPI Telephoto)

Tomanek Gets Victory

Ex-Indians Shine In Athletics' Win

By The Associated Press

That gag about the Kansas City's A's being a New York Yankee farm club in the American League is wearing so thin there are holes in it.

Particularly since it was an ex-Detroit hand who drove in the winning run, a pair of former Cleveland players who batted in two others and an ex-Injun southpaw who was credited with the victory in that 4-3 Kansas City decision over Washington Wednesday night.

It was the only AL game played. Rain washed out the others.

In the National League, San Francisco rapped Milwaukee 10-2. The St. Louis Cardinals defeated Pittsburgh 3-1. Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 10 innings.

Bill Tuttle delivered the payoff hit for the A's, ramming a single up the middle with the bases loaded in the ninth to crack a 3-all tie. Frank House, who went to the A's from Detroit with Tuttle in the Billy Martin deal of last winter, opened the rally with a double and losing reliever Dick Hyde then walked a pair.

Dick Tomanek (3-3) won his first for Kansas City, getting the final out after the Senators tied it in the ninth in a walk and Albie Pearson's triple off Tom Gorman.

Tuttle, House, Roger Maris and Preston Ward had five of the A's eight hits. Maris singled home the A's second run and scored the first off starter Pete Ramos. Ward who traveled with Maris and Tomanek to Kansas City from Cleveland, homered for a 3-2 lead in the eighth off Vito Valentinetti, purchased Monday by the Nats from Detroit.

Indians Need Spurt To Post .500 Average

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are going to have to hurry if they want to do better than break even on the first half of the American League season.

With only 11 scheduled games before the mid-season break for the all-star game at Baltimore July 9, the Tribe is four games under the .500 mark with a 31-35 record.

They play Boston's Red Sox today, then a four-game series with Baltimore that closes the current home stand.

The Indians must win eight of the next 11 games—A tough task for any team—to wind up with a 39-38 won-lost record for the first 77 games of the 154-game schedule.

Wednesday night's game with the Red Sox was washed away by a thunderstorm. Cal McLish (3-4), who was scheduled to pitch, is the Cleveland starter today against either Ike Delock (4-0) or Dick Sisler (6-4).

Calhoun Posts Decisive Win Against Boyd

CHICAGO (AP)—Rory Calhoun, after a rousing victory over Bobby Boyd in a bruising 10-rounder, said today he is looking forward to a re-match with the rugged Chicago middleweight.

Calhoun, the No. 7 middleweight contender, scored two knockdowns in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night and then stood off a tremendous finish by Boyd to score a unanimous decision in the nationally televised bout.

The New Yorker and Boyd expected to iron out the details of a re-match, tentatively slated for Aug. 6 or Aug. 20, at a meeting in the Stadium today. The bout would be held in Chicago.

Calhoun said he played it safe Wednesday night after knocking Boyd down in the second and ninth rounds.

"All I'm interested in," said Calhoun, "is moving up in the middleweight ratings for a shot at Sugar Ray Robinson's title."

Long Island Open Draws 150 Players

EAST NORWICH, N. Y. (AP)—The touring stars didn't exactly take apart the Pine Hollow course in the pro-celebrity competition, but with $50,000 in prizes on the line they can be expected to do a little better in the first round of the Long Island Open golf tournament today.

Only four players broke 70 on the 6,860-yard par 71 layout Wednesday. Billy Casper and Bob Rosburg each carded a 67. Jerry Barber and Dave Marr had 69's.

Approximately 150 players teed off for the $9,000 first prize today. The field will be cut to the low 50 and ties after Friday's round.

Taxpayers Challenging Contract With Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Judge Arnold Praeger has under submission two taxpayers' suits questioning legality of the city's contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

He said Wednesday it would be a week or 10 days before he decides on the cases. They were brought by taxpayers who claimed the agreement under which the Dodgers obtained a Chavez Ravine stadium site was illegal.

Dodgers' Pilot Hopes To Rest Mound Corps

CINCINNATI (AP) —The panting pitchers of Los Angeles' Dodgers got a useful rest Wednesday night but that didn't quite satisfy the curiosity of Manager Walt Alston.

He had wanted to see if the team could stay as hot as it was Tuesday night.

The Dodgers overwhelmed Cincinnati's Redlegs in Tuesday's marathon twi-night doubleheader and Alston said, "Your momentum sometimes carries you a bit.

"The day off won't hurt our pitchers, but on the other hand, while the guys are hot, you like to keep going."

The Dodgers had to shuttle in 11 pitchers in the three games here, and Alston had planned Wednesday night to use Fred Kipp or Don Drysdale — although both had worked a few innings Tuesday.

The Dodgers' pitching troubles have snowballed recently, but Alston sees a breathing spell ahead.

"Now that we're over the doubleheaders, and with a few extra days here and there, we could heal up without any trouble," he said.

Yesterday's STARS

Pitching — Vinegar Bend Mizell, Cardinals, gave up only three singles in 3-1 victory over the Pirates, whose run was unearned.

Houston's Golfers Seek College Title

WASHINGTON, Mass. (AP) — Houston Cougars, holding their third straight team title after a record-shattering spree, today sent five players in quest of the individual National Collegiate golf championship.

Co-medalist Phil Rodgers, Jim Hiskey, Jack Cupit, Frank Wharton and Bob Pratt ventured into the first round of match competition after establishing a low mark of 570 aggregate strokes, two better than the previous mark by Southern Methodist in 1954.

Houston, which lost only to Baylor in 11 dual matches, now has won seven consecutive tournaments.

Oklahoma State placed second 12 strokes behind, aided by Ab Justice who fired a 139 for co-medal with Rodgers.

Zanesville Youth Signs Los Angeles Contract

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Bill Joseph, a 1957 graduate of South Zanesville High School (now Maysville High) Wednesday signed a bonus contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers. The bonus was reported to be less than $4,000.

Joseph, a 19-year-old righthanded pitcher, will report Saturday to the Thomasville, Ga., club of the Class D Georgia - Florida State League, a Dodger farm outfit.

While in high school Joseph had a 20-3 record, including three no-hitters.

6 Races Slated Friday At Richwood Speedway

If the third time is truly "the charm," stock car races will go as scheduled Friday night on the Richwood Speedway. Rain has washed out the exhaust fumes derby the last two Fridays.

A six-race card is slated for this Friday's action, with a novice grind to be added if enough cars can be entered. Time trials are set for 7:30, with the first race flagged off promptly at 8:30.

The speedway is located on the Union County fairgrounds.

Held overnight in the county jail here, he probably will be charged with being absent without leave.

Red Wings Beat Sugar Kings 7-1

By The Associated Press

Rain and the Rochester Red Wings combined to draw the string a little tighter around the leaders of the International League.

The Red Wings, defeating the Havana Sugar Kings 7-1 in a rain shortened game Wednesday night, today are only a game back of the second place Toronto Maple Leafs and just two away from the pace setting Montreal Royals.

The Royals and Leafs were rained out Wednesday night along with the other clubs.

Laurel holds the Maryland record of $194,244 for one-day daily double wagering.

O'Connell Speaks Out

Fresh Attack Launched Against Spirit of Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) —The San Francisco Giants' Danny O'Connell, slowly warming up to his subject, barbecued the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night for what he called their lack of spirit, drive and incentive.

O'Connell's blast at his former teammates served to second a motion made in Los Angeles the other day by the Dodgers' Carl Furillo, who has crossed conversational swords with the Braves on numerous occasions.

Singles Out Trio

Furillo singled out West Covington, Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews for his more baited barbs and ended by saying, "The Braves are playing like they were two years ago when they blew the pennant. . . They'll never win it."

Reluctant at first to be drawn onto the charcoals of controversy, "The Braves should be further ahead than they are right now with the team they have, the hitters and pitchers. They're in first place, all right, but only 2½ games ahead of the Cards and us.

"Something's wrong. I don't know exactly what it is but I'll say this. They never had too much spirit and they don't have an overabundance of it right now. They're a little let down in their general attitude."

Asked for particulars following the Giants' 10-2 victory, the 29-year-old second baseman declined to name any individuals.

Schoendienst Helped

"When I was with the club in 1956 and '57," O'Connell said "everyone was for himself. They were all individualists until they got Red Schoendienst in the trade that sent me to the Giants. He took charge last year and steadied them, but he's been out of the lineup a lot this year and can't steady them down. You can see it when they're on the field."

Told about the remarks made by Furillo and O'Connell, the Braves shrugged them off with a "this is where I came in" attitude.

"Are they starting that already?" said Schoendienst. "It's kinda early isn't it?"

Haddix Hurls For Redlegs in Giant Opener

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts may be shorthanded elsewhere, but in Cincinnati Redleg first basemen, he's got nothing but surpluses.

After Ted Kluszewski, a mainstay at first base, was shipped off to Pittsburgh last winter, the Reds came up with three first-sackers.

Tebbetts figured to platoon his players, but that idea didn't last. George Crowe hammered his way to the top among Redleg batters and his competitors faded out. One —Steve Bilko—was traded. The other, Dee Fondy, was held for reserve.

But the Reds needed Bilko's power so they decided to pick up an American League castoff—Walt Dropo.

And what was his position? First base, of course.

Wednesday night's final game of a series with Los Angeles was rained out.

The high flying San Francisco Giants are due in here tonight for the first of four games with the Reds. Harvey Haddix is slated to start on the mound for Cincinnati, opposing Johnny Antonelli.

Indians Sign Brown's Brother to Farm Pact

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians Wednesday night signed their catcher Dick Brown's younger brother and will assign him to one of their Class D farm clubs. Galionite New School Head in Crawford Area

Treherne, Principal Of Senior High, Gets County Board's Okay

BUCYRUS—Edwin C. Treherne, 38, Galion Senior High School principal for the last two years, was hired as Crawford County School superintendent by the County Board of Education here Wednesday night by a 4-1 vote.

He was given a three-year contract at $8,500 a year plus $500 yearly travel expenses.

Paul Schimpf voted against Mr. Treherne's appointment, stating that he thought the starting salary was too high for an applicant with no experience as superintendent.

Succeeds Ferguson

Mr. Treherne succeeds William S. Ferguson, whose contract was not renewed by a 4-0 vote of the board at its March meeting. Mr. Ferguson received $7,000 a year plus $300 travel allowance.

Mr. Ferguson Wednesday night told Board President Lloyd Volk that he had not been informed in writing that his contract was not being renewed and he was, therefore, eligible to another year as superintendent if he wished. Mr. Volk pointed out that Mr. Ferguson, as board clerk, had prepared the minutes of the March meeting in which his contract was not renewed.

Mr. Treherne received his bachelor's degree at Ohio Northern University at Ada in 1942 and his master's degree from Ohio State University in 1949. He has completed work toward his doctorate. He is a veteran of World War II and the Korean War and now is a major in the Air Force Reserve. He served two years as principal of Oberlin High School and before that was executive head of Eden Local Schools in Seneca County four years.

Married and the father of three children, he is a member of First Methodist Church, Kiwanis Club and the American Legion.

15 Sought Position

Mr. Volk said originally there were about 15 applicants for the superintendent's post. The field was narrowed to four following two executive sessions of the board.

In other action the board, by unanimous vote, approved the transfer of the Donald Young property from the Bucyrus City School District to the Whetstone School District and placed two certifications to the Board of Elections for vote at the Nov. 4 election.

The issues to be submitted to voters include the transfer of the Leesville School District to the North Robinson District and the transfer of the Ksonia Cook property from Mount Zion School District to the Bucyrus City School District.

Macaroni and Spaghetti Become Objects of Art

LYNDHURST, N.J. (AP)—Macaroni, spaghetti, glue, cardboard, and water colors—these are materials used by an eighth grade art class.

The teacher, Mrs. Ruth Horton, got the idea when she noticed the interesting patterns provided by spilled noddles. Now her pupils are gluing the paste to cardboard and applying paint.

The titles of such art work: "Man in the bushes," "Jones' Locker," and "Color." One picture was named "Just Spaghetti."

Man's Love for Stuffed Fox Brings on Arrest

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Bearded Al Millikan, who wears chartreuse trousers, a gold belt and an orange T-shirt and carries a stuffed fox, appeared in court on charges of disorderly conduct. He explained to the judge that a man threatened to kick his fox into the street and that he loved the fox. Millikan suggested the man kick him instead. The stranger did. Millikan said he was just expressing his feelings when the policeman arrived.

Marion Pair Receives Card From First Lady

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orville Blair of 428 Avondale Ave. today received a letter from Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, congratulating them on their 59th wedding anniversary which they will observe July 1.

The letter from Washington came after Mrs. Clarence Cline, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blair, sent a congratulatory card to the Eisenhowers, and mentioned that her parents shared the same anniversary date.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair were married in Portsmouth and have resided in Marion 54 years. They plan a small family get-together in observance of their anniversary.

Syracuse won six of nine 158 golf matches for its best links record in the last four years.

Telephone Firm To Receive Honor

A luncheon honoring the General Telephone Co. of Ohio for cooperation in the Army Reserve program will be held Friday at Hotel Harding.

A Defense Department award in recognition of the company's service will be presented at that time.

Clare E. Williams, president of the company here, will speak on "Communications—Key to Progress." Guests will include Everett H. Krueger Jr., chairman of the Public Utilities Commission; Maj. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, commanding general of the Army Reserve Corps, and Maj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber, adjutant general of Ohio.

Physician's Care Urged In Use of Tranquilizers

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Tranquilizers are not harmful, but anyone who needs them should be under a doctor's care, says Dr. Ralph Ruhmkorff, assistant director of the Michigan State University health center.

Although modern tranquilizers do not have many of the side effects of their predecessors, Dr. Ruhmkorff said he strongly recommends a medical examination before using them.

THE RETURN OF LIZZIE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of Broadway's favorite subjects, the Lizzie Borden hatchet-murder case of 1892, is now being prepared as a drama, "The Legend of Lizzie." The title role is to be portrayed by Anne Meacham, winner of critical acclaim this year in Tennessee Williams "Garden District.' The play is scheduled for fall presentation.

'The People' Speak on TV

The calendar brings a reminder that the 1957-58 television season officially comes to an end this week — and what kind of year has it been? Frankly, we hesitate to say. Behind the television scenes, those of us covering the TV beat have been suspect, of late, of spreading unfair propaganda against the industry. With the same degree of pain that moved Caesar to declare "Et tu, Brutus?", the TV moguls have been accusing the columnists and critics of saying some pretty damaging things about the quality of TV programming when The People, they say, are having a high ol' time with the Westerns and giveaways and undernourished plots.

Marie Torre

THUS, IN THE interests of fair play, we've picked at random a letter from among those sent to this desk by The People. It comes from John Lightfoot of Glen Cove, N.Y., who writes:

"Today, in my average living room, more and more comments are heard of how bored people are with TV. In our family, we have guessing contests how the story will turn out, whodunit, and pulling apart the very implausible plots of the Westerns.

"One wonders why so many pages of your paper are used up discussing why. The answer is very patent for anyone who wants to see. The 'Boys From Hollywood' have taken over. The 'meat grinders' who drove us from the theaters with double-feature horror pictures, rehashed Mack Sennett comedies of 30 years ago, and names, names, names instead of acting.

"These people milked the movies dry. Now the leeches are sucking the life blood of TV. They moved over because they could not make the grade when the movies required a good picture to get people to spend their money. Now the quality people of TV are making the pictures. . . .

"LIKE THE MOVIES, there is only one cure. When the whole TV industry has fallen into disrepute as did the films, the advertising money will disappear. Then, with painful years of rebuilding, the industry will arrive at its proper maturity.

"We, the public, will wait through this period of 'giveaways' as we did the free dishes at the theater.

"When the advertisers discover the fact that those who valued free dishes do not have the spendable luxury money there will be hope that the dawn of a common-sense approach may be near."

Remember, we didn't say it. The People did.

"VOICE OF FIRESTONE" becomes "The New Voice of Firestone" in the fall, when the hardiest pioneer of broadcasting changes its musical format after 30 years to encompass all forms of music — everything, that is, but rock 'n' roll. Benny Goodman and Kathryn Grayson are among the musical lights booked so far for next season. . . .

Kathryn Murray will get her TV wish, after all. Having shunned summer offers to hold out for a fall showcase, Kathryn and her favorite husband have been given three night time periods to choose from by NBC — Sundays at 7:30, Mondays at 10 and Thursdays at 10:30. Chances are they'll decide on the Thursday slot, with P. Lorillard as sponsor. . . .

Out of the mouth of Jack Benny: "Desi Arnaz has a bongo drum that speaks better English than he." . . .

Following Milton Berle on the NBC Wednesday schedule in the fall will be a new horse opera, "Bat Masterson," which, if nothing else, will have something new in Western attire. "I think," says star Gene Barry, "that my costume as Masterson will be the most unusual on TV. It's a conservative dark suit. I have a derby and a cane, too. Masterson dressed in clothes suitable for burial because he always figured he wasn't very far from the undertaker."

SINCE WE ALL know how difficult it is to sell TV ideas to networks and agencies, a New York taxi driver, instead of going through the normal channels, has been trying to generate interest in his projects by posting the following sign inside his cab:

"Producers — Attention Please! "Signor Annibale di Benedetto wishes to sell two great scripts—'The Adverse Father,' for a television production, and 'I Am a Fugitive From Sicily' for cinema or musical production. Interested parties please ask the driver or phone KIngsbridge 8-1117."

County Road Program Approved by Wyandot

UPPER SANDUSKY—The Wyandot county commissioners have approved the engineer's report for resurfacing of 48.06 miles of county roads at an estimated cost of $49,922.

County highway workmen will patch the road and seal the patches. The U. S. Construction Co. of Upper Sandusky will do the actual resurfacing.

The county engineer estimated that about 156,330 gallons of bituminous material and 6,260 tons of stone will be required, at costs of $28,890 and $20,032, respectively.

FIRST MISSILE GRADUATES. Holding their diplomas and mopping their brows in the hot desert sun, RAF Master Pilot Donald S. Chadwick (left) of Chester, England, and classmate, Master Signalman Arthur M. Robertson of Dumfries, Scotland, contemplate their return to the British Isles and the cooler climate there. They were members of a class of 32 who were the first to graduate from the newly-established Thor Intermediate Ballistic Missile School in Tucson, Ariz., Tuesday. (UPI Telephoto)

Bennett Replaces Barclay

New Principal Selected By Upper School Board

UPPER SANDUSKY—Carl Eugene Bennett, 31, of Amelia, O., Wednesday was named new principal of the Upper Sandusky public school system, by the board of education the new superintendent, William M. Root, announced. He succeeds Robert Barclay who resigned to accept a similar position in another city.

Though he immediately begins assuming some of his duties, Mr. Bennett's appointment will not become officially effective until Aug. 1.

Mr. Bennett was born near Amelia and attended public schools there. A member of the U. S. Navy Reserve, he saw World War II service. In 1948 he was graduated from Miami University at Oxford, and for three years taught mathematics in the Franklin, O. schools. Later he was employed by the Cincinnati public school system in a pupil personnel post in the central offices. At the same time he taught night school history for four years.

The new principal earned his master's degree from the University of Cincinnati and has taken three years of graduate work beyond that degree at Ohio State University, Columbus.

Mr. Bennett served one year as assistant to the dean of the OSU college of education and for two years did educational research in the Center for Educational Administration.

His wife, Frances, is a former English teacher at Grandview Heights. They have a son, Dennis, 6.

Wins Speech Award

Robert LaMarche won the best speech award and Marvin Morgan the most improvement award at the fourth session of the Dale Carnegie Class held Wednesday at Hotel Harding. The special award went to Wayne Martin.

Mac McGriff of Fostoria, instructor for the evening, was assisted by Richard Hill and Eldon Phillips.

Next week's session will deal with "thinking on your feet" and "coming out of your shell."

Takes Hamilton Post

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Marvin McCollum is the new head basketball coach at Hamilton High School, succeeding Warren Scholler who resigned to join Bowling Green State University. McCollum has been Hamilton's reserve coach for the past three years.

Fall From Auto Puts Galion Boy in Hospital

GALION — Timothy Tanner, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tanner of Pershing Ave., after falling from an automobile, was admitted to Galion Community Hospital Wednesday. He suffered a laceration on his head when he fell from the automobile driven by his mother. Mrs. Tanner said Timothy was riding in the back seat with her niece when he pulled himself up to the door. It opened and the boy fell out. She was driving slowly. Timothy's injury was believed not to be serious.

LOOKING AHEAD

HYRUM, Utah (AP) — City Marshal Elmer A. Lauritzen, 71, is ready for reitrement. He has designed a collapsible rocking chair. Lauritzen also has applied for a patent and hopes to sell a few of the chairs on the side.

People We're Proud To Know

Dr. A. J. Wagner

By WILLIAM VANCE

In the face of growing demands for better streets, sewers and hospital facilities, a Marion dentist continues to hold out hopes for a $37,000-a-year dream.

The dentist is Dr. A. J. Wagner of 567 Girard Ave. His dream: establishment of a city recreation department which he figures could be organized and operated under a one-half-mill recreation levy.

Odds against any immediate action on a city recreation plan are stiff. And even though he is among the first to admit that other civic improvement measures have taken precedence in the minds of many, the 54-year-old dentist will argue the importance of organized recreation with all comers.

His name has been linked with recreation and youth activities in Marion for many years. The fact that he's willing to buck odds to push a recreation program probably doesn't surprise those who know him well. He has had a history of overcoming even stiffer odds.

IT WASN'T EASY, for instance, working his way through college on his way to a coveted degree in dental surgery from Ohio State University in 1927. To help finance his education he took such jobs as driving an oil truck, working in a steel mill, delivering ice and painting houses.

During the summer of 1924 he accomplished a feat he hopes he will never have to repeat. On foot he outraced a tornado as it ripped into Lorain. "In fact," he says, "I think I came close to running a four-minute mile."

An even greater set of odds was overcome by Dr. Wagner and his oldest son, James, during the summer of 1946 when they were on a western camping trip.

They had stopped to fish the rapids of the Gallitan River just north of Yellowstone National Park when they answered a call for help from Glen L. Barnes of Chicago. Mr. Barnes' wife had been swept off her feet in the rapids and was being carried swiftly downstream.

Both Dr. Wagner and his son leaped into the turbulent river and after a struggle managed to pull the woman to safety. For their heroism and the risk they took, both won the Carnegie Lifesaving Medal. James also won the Boy Scouts of America Lifesaving Medal.

Dr. Wagner was born in Lorain on July 28, 1903, the only boy of six children of the late Peter J. Wagner and Mary Frances Wagner who still resides in Lorain.

He was graduated from Lorain High School in 1922 and came to Marion after completing dental school at Ohio State. In 1928 he was married to Mary Etta Francis of Lorain, a childhood sweetheart. They are members of St. Mary Church.

In addition to James, who is now a captain in the Marines scheduled for discharge next month, the Wagners have three other children: Dr. Thomas Wagner of 160 Merchant Ave., who has been practicing dentistry with his father since his graduation from Ohio State in 1955; William, an aeronautical engineer with North American Aviation in Columbus, and Mrs. William (Helen) Barr of 552 Cherry St. The Barrs also have three children.

Dr. Wagner says he's a man of changing interests, doesn't like to be saddled with one task for a long period of time. He points out, however, that there are two exceptions to that statement: his profession and his interest in youth.

HE HAS BEEN active in Boy Scout work for a number of years. A member of the executive board and the National Council of Boy Scouts, he was instrumental in organizing Troop 50 and in obtaining a swimming pool for Camp Owens. He also was chairman of the Boy Scout Jamboree last year.

For his Boy Scout work he has won the Silver Beaver award and the St. George Catholic lay award for scouting programs and service to youth in the Columbus Diocese.

Dr. Wagner was assistant football and basketball coach at St. Mary High School from 1944 to 1946 and was a physical education teacher there from 1931 to 1934.

As for his own sports life, the stocky dentist played end on the last city football team here in 1928 and was an amateur boxer in college where he also trained other young boxers. He played one season of football at OSU.

He has refereed virtually every boxing event in Marion for the last 25 years and is a past president of the State Association of Boxing and Wrestling Commissioners.

He also has been active in a number of civic and professional organizations. He is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce parks and recreation committee and is a trustee of the Elks Lodge. He has been a Kiwanis Club member for 28 years and is a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Diocese Committee.

On April 20, 1955, he became the second winner of the Marion Exchange Club's Book of Golden Deeds Award.

Dr. Wagner is vice president of the Central Ohio Dental Society and was twice president of the Marion Dental Academy. He was a charter member of the Delta Sigma Delta professional dental fraternity.

Although he's busy as a dentist, he still finds time to devote to young athletes. For the last three years he has furnished Marion Catholic football players with rubber mouth protectors and urges universal adoption of the devices.

And he's never too busy to counsel youngsters in scouting work or any type of recreation activity, because, as he puts it:

"The most important asset we have in our country is youth and we should try to do all we can for them—their future is dependent on us."

'Mighty Mac' Is Dedicated in 3-Day Affair

STRAITS OF MACKINAC BRIDGE, Mich. (AP) — Michigan started a solid 72 hours of merry-making today as it dedicated the world's longest and costliest suspension bridge.

With parades and fireworks, thousands touched off the three-day celebration at the Straits of Mackinac, where the new bridge joins Michigan's two peninsulas for the first time since the Ice Age.

Star of the show is "Mighty Mac"—the five-mile-long bridge, built in 3½ years at a cost of 100 million dollars.

Its 7,400-foot suspension span is longer than any other in the world.

The bridge connects Michigan's two peninsulas at a point where the Straits of Mackinac join Lakes Michigan and Huron.

Open for business since the start of the deer hunting season last Nov. 1 (minimum fee, $3.25 one way), the bridge has awaited warm weather and tourists for its formal dedication.

No Tomato Market

BREMOND, Tex. (AP) — The bottom has dropped out of the market and farmers are letting tomatoes rot in the fields in this tomato-growing center.

Farmers said the 2 cents a pound price isn't enough to pay for gathering the tomatoes.

Saves 6-Engine RB 47 at Topeka

Crew Lands Crippled Bomber Safely

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — A crippled Air Force bomber limped along high above the eastern Kansas plains Wednesday night, inside, six men tried to decide whether to stay with the plane or bail out.

After two hours of tests, the airmen elected to ride down with the six-engine RB47 reconnaissance bomber. They brought the plane home to Forbes Air Force Base without further mishap.

"The two hours seemed like seven hours because you know at the end you had to come down," said Maj. Lewis Chase, 36, commander of the bomber, from Gallitzin, Pa.

With an engine gone and a ripped wing, the crew practiced landings at 15,000 feet—slowing down and lowering flaps and landing gear—before they decided the ship could be coaxed to the ground.

The crew experienced a sudden jolt about 8 p. m. while on a routine training flight and Chase said he saw one of the plane's engines standing on end. A few seconds later it dropped off, ripping the underside of the right wing. The engine fell harmlessly in the back yard of a farmhouse about 50 miles south of here.

"We could not see the bottom of the wing and we did not know whether the wing would stay on," said Chase.

Others aboard were Lt. Frank L. Hicks, Olympia, Wash., pilot; Capt. Thomas H. Hanley, Easton, Pa., navigator; 1st Lt. Heromu Goya, Honolulu; 1st Lt. Thomas J. Gresalfi, Baldwin, Long Island, N. Y.; and 2nd Lt. Roscoe H. Fobair, Covina, Calif.

Chase said the plane became easier to control as the fuel load lightened. He and the other crew members definitely decided about 10 p. m. to land, and brought the ship in at 11:27 p. m.

"Most pilots would have bailed out under similar circumstances," said Col. James K. Johnson, commander of the 55th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing. "They would have hit the panic button."

Driver Hospitalized

Car Crashes Into Pole, Electric Power Cut Off

Electrical power in Green Camp was disrupted for nearly two hours late Wednesday afternoon and the western section of Marion was affected for about a half hour after a car struck and broke off a power pole on Rt. 203 about 5:20 p.m.

The accident was one of three in the county investigated during the day by Marion post state patrolmen. Five persons were injured in two of the mishaps.

OFFICERS SAID the driver of the vehicle which struck the power pole, James P. Partin 24, of Delaware, was hospitalized for treatment of a broken rib and body abrasions. He was taken to Marion General Hospital in a Hughes-Hyll ambulance. His condition was listed as "fairly good" this morning.

A passenger in the car, Robert Coffee of near Sunbury, escaped injury, patrolmen said.

According to the report the mishap occurred six and one - half miles southwest of Marion when the Partin auto swerved out of control and struck a culvert. It then turned end over end and struck the electric pole, patrolmen said. The auto caught fire after the crash and was demolished.

Harold Grigsby, division manager of Ohio Edison Co., said this morning a main transmission line leading to the Green Camp area and to the Mound St. substation was broken in the accident.

Patrolmen said the accident still is under investigation.

FOUR PERSONS were injured, one of them a Marion area woman who was hospitalized, after two vehicles collided at the intersection of Rt. 95 and County Rd. 123 at 5:45 p.m., officers reported.

They said cars involved were a northbound auto driven on the county road by Owen E. Poling, 34, of 292 Homer St. and a westbound car on Rt. 95 driven by Elmer Rengert, 52, of near Marion.

Officers said Poling failed to stop and was struck by the Rengert auto in the intersection.

Hospitalized was Mrs. Clara Rengert, 49, wife of Mr. Rengert, who sustained lacerations of the head and left hand, possible concussion and fractured right knee. She was listed in "fairly good" condition at General Hospital this morning.

Other passengers injured in the Rengert car were Lynn Fichtner, 9, of Delaware, left arm injuries, and Mickey Newell, 17, of Waldo, lacerations of the right hand. They were treated and released.

PATROLMEN said Poling suffered abrasions of the knee, a bump on the head and possible back injuries, but was not treated at the time of the mishap.

Both vehicles were badly damaged. Poling was charged with failure to yield the right of way, according to the report.

Marilyn Patton, 17, of Morral was charged with driving left of center and cited to appear in Juvenile Court after her car swerved off the left side of Rt. 231, just east of Morral and struck a farm fence at 7:45 p.m., patrolmen said.

The driver escaped injury, but her auto was considerably damaged, officers said. The fence owned by Charles Farr of near Morral was badly damaged.

8 Accidents in City

Eight minor no injury traffic accidents were investigated Wednesday by Marion police.

One at W. Fairground and N. Prospect streets at 6:54 p.m. involved cars driven by Elmer Radel, 68, of Morral, and B. G. Young, 39, of 278 Rose Ave.

A car driven by Clarence E. Beck, 63, of 12 The Woods, was struck from the rear in the 500 block of Delaware Ave. at 6:12 p.m. Driver of the other car was J. J. Besinger, 47, of 346 Belmont St.

A collision in the 800 block of E. Center St. at 6:08 p.m. involved cars driven by R. L. Douce, 46, of Caledonia, and R. A. Niess, 36, of Galion.

Cars driven by Virginia Aquilino, 35, of near Baltimore, Md., and V. A. Horst, 55, of 543 King Ave., collided at Sargent and E. Church streets at 3:30 p.m.

Each of the other four accidents in the city caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

OLD COLD CASH

ANNANDALE, Va. (AP) — Fairfax Inscoe, tearing down an old house vacant for a decade found two old chests containing about 200 English coins. He said they appeared to bear the profile of Prince Edward II. Inscoe contracted to raze the house for salvage rights and has sent the coins to a friend for appraisal.

MAKING THE BEST OF IT

PORTLAND, Me. (AP) — On page one of a newspaper here was the note: "To the thief who stole the carpet from Foss Furniture: Please tell all your friends what a wonderful rug you have. Send them to see us. We can't give them quite as good a deal as you got but we can save them money and keep them honest."

Actor in Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Alfred Lunt, reported to have had a high fever for the past few days, was sent to a hospital Wednesday night by his physician.

Lunt played Wednesday's matinee of the Broadway play "The Visit," in which he is costarred with his wife Lynn Fontanne.

About an hour before Wednesday night's performance Lunt, 65, was sent to New York Hospital. His part was taken by understudy John Wise.

SAGE ADVICE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Ten-month-old Steve Styers was romping in his play pen when the family puppy got inside and started licking his face. Outraged, Steve began crying and his 2-year-old brother Jimbert advised: "Well, just lick him back and he'll let you alone."

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircrafts and selected issues rose in an uneven stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Gains and losses of key stocks were generally within a one-point range.

The market was mixed at the start. Trading interest continued in an assortment of special issues.

Steels were irregular as doubt prevailed over the prospect for a price rise. Rails were irregularly lower. Coppers, motors and oils were mixed.

Rails rallied on news of agreement among Senate-House conferees to eliminate the 3 per cent excise tax on freight.

Lorillard and Penn Texas gained about a point, and Revlon ran up well over a point.

Martin Co. was about a point ahead. Boeing and North American Aviation made similar gains.

U.S. Steel continued ahead fractionally while Youngstown Sheet dropped a fraction and Bethlehem eased. General Motors was steady and Chrysler ahead slightly. American Motors was fractionally lower.

Western Maryland leaped about two points, Illinois Central about a point.

U.S. government bonds continued firm.

Seek Tax Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees began compromise sessions on tax legislation today under strong pressure from the Eisenhower administration to hold the line against any cuts.

As conferees went into closed-door conference, members disclosed that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson was insisting on a straight one-year extension of excises and the corporate income tax without repeal of the transportation tax.

This country keeps demonstrating its weakness in basic research. There is evidence, for example, that the designers of these needle - shaped shoes for women have never seen a human foot.

Airliner, Navy Jet Just Miss Collision

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An American Airlines plane with 44 persons aboard and a Navy plane narrowly missed a collision 500 feet above Municipal Airport Wednesday.

The airliner, piloted by Capt. Ted Kasper of Grapevine, Tex., had just taken off for Dallas when the Navy AD6 swooped out of the 1,000-foot ceiling. The Navy plane passed above the DC7.

Lt. E. V. Thomas, pilot of the Navy plane, said he turned away quickly when he saw the DC7. He said he had been unable to contact the control tower by radio because bad weather had jammed communications.

The weather had also prevented Thomas, flying in from Norfolk, Va., from landing at Scott Air Force Base near Belleville, Ill., his original destination.

The DC7 continued on to Dallas.

SWEET AND SOUR ROAST PORK

LOOK likes this recipe for sweet and sour roast shoulder of pork. The meat is basted while roasting with a sauce made from brown sugar, soy sauce, canned crushed pineapple and catsup.

Place a 4-5 pound pork shoulder roast, fat side up, on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast, uncovered at 325°F. allowing 45-50 minutes per pound. Meanwhile, combine in saucepan 3 tablespoons brown sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup vinegar, ¼ cup water, ½ cup catsup, 1 can (8¾-oz.) crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon soy sauce. Cook 5 minutes, stirring. Pour sauce over meat 1 hour before meat is done. Then baste every 20 minutes, by spooning sauce from pan, until roasting time is up. Skim fat from sauce; serve remaining sauce with sliced meat.

Defense Chief Settles Dispute With Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) said today he is satisfied with new assurances that top military officials may testify frankly before congressional committees.

Secretary of Defense McElroy apparently settled a two-day feud with a formal letter to Russell saying that "officials of the department, when testifying before Congress, should give their personal judgments and opinions asked for them.

"There should not, in my opinion, be any question of retaliation or penalty for such testimony."

With that assurance, Russell said he will ask Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph M. Pate, Marine Corps commandant, to testify sometime next week on a pending defense reorganization bill.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, had canceled their scheduled testimony earlier this week after McElroy told newsmen he was disappointed at testimony on the bill by Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations.

The Bear River is the longest river in the United States which doesn't empty into an ocean. It wanders 550 miles through Utah, Wyoming and Idaho and empties into the Great Salt Lake only 150 miles from its headwaters.

Ike's Foreign Aid Bill Hits Another Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's $3,675,400,000 foreign aid program was caught today in a jurisdictional wrangle over the use of U. S.-owned foreign currencies.

The big bill, over which all differences were thought to have been settled last week when Senate and House conferees agreed on a compromise bill, is back in the laps of the conferees again.

They met for three hours Wednesday and decided to meet again today in a further effort to get together.

They locked horns over House objection to a Senate provision approving the use of some foreign currencies for scientific and health projects overseas in cooperation with other nations.

The provision, originally agreed to by the House conferees, ran into House objections that it amounted to an appropriation in an authorization bill. House rules call for separate legislation for each.

JUSTIFIABLE COMPLAINT

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—Mrs. Ben Smith, crippled with arthritis, complained to police that a young couple looked at a rug she was trying to sell, complained about her $60 price and set the rug on fire before leaving.

Police Reports

Pete Fetter reported the theft of some money from his shoe repair shop at 740 E. Center St. sometime during the night. Police said he did not report the amount stolen. Police were investigating today.

TWO MILES DISPOSED OF

BALTIMORE (AP) — The city government has thrown away nearly two miles of outdated records in the past two years. That's how high the records would reach if piled one on another, says the Record Management Office, which has disposed of 116 tons of official papers since 1955.

Home Selling Fine Business, Woman Finds

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Suppose you are a young housewife anxious to help with family finances, or a widow now the sole support of children, or possibly just a woman who would like to meet new people, make friends and earn a little extra money.

What do you do?

Mrs. Merl Brewer, who pioneered here as a female real estate agent and who now owns one of the larger realty companies in Kansas City, has one solution.

"This is a woman's work," she said of the real estate business. "A woman knows what a home demands and what she demands of a home. Even builders are finding their homes do not sell as well unless they incorporate things women need and want."

There are many women now selling real estate. A large number have families.

Profitable Field

"They can make more in this business than in anything else in the world," Mrs. Brewer said positively, "if they will give it the time and perseverance."

She mentioned one of her agents, mother of two children, who averages $11,000 a year from commissions and who takes two vacations annually.

But it wasn't like that when Mrs. Brewer started, nearly 35 years ago. She had to find a way to support her son, and friends in New York state where she lived suggested she try selling real estate.

She had no experience but she surveyed the field and learned that one of the greatest turnovers in homes was taking place in Kansas City. So she moved here to hunt for a job.

Finally, after she learned not to confess to prospective employers that she was without experience, she found a realtor who was willing to take a chance on her. She worked for three companies before she established her own.

Some Men Now Hired

For many years she hired only women. Now that her company has grown to such size that she handles commercial buildings as well as residential and has an insurance department and offices in both Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas, she has hired some men.

What are the qualities that make a good real estate saleswoman?

"An absolute determination to succeed and the courage not to quit" when the going gets rough are prime requisites, Mrs. Brewer believes.

Diplomacy is another quality.

"The most vital thing is not to talk too much. Your approach is service."

How about training for the job?

Nearly all states now have a license law, Mrs. Brewer explained, and real estate boards operate training schools.

"I would advise schooling right along with training in the office," she said.

What are the rewards, other than monetary, in real estate selling?

"When I came to Kansas City, I didn't know anyone. All of my friends have been made in the years I have been in business. I have met many interesting people," Mrs. Brewer said.

Telephone Official Raps False Emergency Calls

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Manager J. R. Michels of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. complains too many persons falsely label their calls emergencies just to get the line quickly.

A check of 3,020 "emergency" calls showed that only 373 involved real emergencies, Michels said. Among the worst offenders, Michels added, are teen-agers who place emergency calls to say, "Come on over, we're playing records."

CHRISTIAN ROAD

CHOL CHOL, CHILE (AP) — Heavy rains during about half the year made travel virtually impossible over a muddy road serving this village. A Maryknoll missionary, the Rev. Frederick J. Hegarty, from East Orange, N.J., assembled his parishioners — and their equipment—and in three days built a new all-weather road to the next town.

Chain of Stairs Rises 602 Feet From Tidewater

Lakes, Locks, Rivers, Canals Form New Seaway

By ART PARKS

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP)—Are you jittery? When you travel, do you insist on going in a hurry?

If you plan to travel from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic via the St. Lawrence Seaway, you'd better take along a big bottle of tranquilizer pills. Otherwise, you're in for a shattering experience.

Your worst time will be around the locks which gently lower your ship to sea level. Water travel is never speedy, at best, but a tension - ridden soul easily can flip his wig while waiting his ship's turn to pass through a lock.

Second of a Series

If water travel is so pokey, you ask, then why do we in this supercharged Twentieth Century fiddle around building such things as the St. Lawrence Seaway?

THE ANSWER: Money! Even with all its tedium and delay, water transportation is the cheapest kind ever devised by the mind of man.

There is so little friction between the water and the smooth bottom of a big freighter that relatively small amount of power will push the vessel and a tremendous cargo toward its destination.

Remember the pictures you've seen of the one-mule-power canal tow boats of the 19th Century? Remember the little tugboats you've seen pushing or pulling a string of big coal barges on the Ohio River?

Water travel, in cases where the date of a cargo's delivery is unimportant, is a big money-saver.

THAT IS WHY ships from the Seven Seas are expected to carry 36½ million tons of cargo through the St. Lawrence Seaway-Great Lakes system next year and about 52 million tons a year by 1965.

That is why Ohio's big iron ore and coal ports—cities like Toledo, Lorain, Cleveland, Ashtabula and Conneaut—are expecting a boom in water commerce when the Seaway is ready for full service at the start of the 1959 shipping season.

To understand the Lakes-Seaway system, you must get the proper mental picture. The whole system is like an irregular stairway with Lake Superior at the top and the Atlantic at the bottom.

Mighty Lake Superior—fed by streams and thousands of springs—is 602 feet above sea level. Its waters flow past Sault St. Marie into the great Lake Michigan-Lake Huron basin. That is a drop of 24 feet. Then, through Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River the water drops another six feet as it flows into Lake Erie.

At the east end of Lake Erie is where Great Lakes water really begins a headlong plunge toward the sea. In the space of only 20-odd miles the water tumbles and boils and plunges 326 feet as it passes through the Niagara River, over Niagara Falls and into Lake Ontario.

Lake Erie is 572 feet above sea level and Lake Ontario is only 246. Ninety of those remaining feet are accounted for at International Rapids in the Massena section of the St. Lawrence River, the lakes' outlet to the sea. The main part of the St. Lawrence Seaway is in the Massena area. The rest of the 146-foot drop to the sea occurs in a series of rapids in the Montreal area.

LET'S RETRACE our steps to the 24-foot drop at Sault St. Marie. There are locks at the Soo to make navigation possible for the big ore, coal and grain ships.

Locks aren't necessary to handle the six-foot drop in the relatively narrow gorge of the Detroit River. The drop, however, does create a good, stiff southbound current into Lake Erie.

But at the eastern end of Lake Erie, there's the Welland Canal, its modern version completed in 1931. Toward the Ontario end of the 27½-mile canal is the city of Thorold which calls itself the place "where the steamships climb the mountain." (That's for ships headed toward Lake Erie, of course. For ships headed for Ontario, it could be called the place where ships slide off the mountain.)

In truth, you could walk from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario faster than your ship can pass through the series of eight 800-foot locks.

IDEALLY, YOUR ship can pass through the canal in seven hours. Twelve hours is more likely. It might take 16 depending on how many ships are lined up waiting to pass through.

But that probably would have seemed like heaven to a ship's captain in the early 19th century. The first Welland Canal, built in 1829, had 40 locks!

Ready to begin operations next week is the new, 10-mile Wiley-Dondero Canal which will bypass the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence. It has two locks—the Eisenhower at the west end and the Snell at the east—each capable of lifting or lowering a 25,000-ton ship 45 feet.

Downriver, between Lake St. Francis and Lake St. Louis, Canada is adding locks to the existing 17-mile Beahuarnois power canal. Still farther down, an 18-mile canal is being built between Lachine Rapids and tidewater level in Montreal Harbor.

There end the stair-steps which began at the head of the lakes.

Diamond Field Top Attraction For Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The magic of diamonds is rearing its unpredictable head again in Arkansas.

"Diamond mine for lease, $5," a newspaper advertisement here read.

You won't get rich quickly if you lease the "mine." What you'll have is one square foot of greenish black earth near Murfreesboro — in hilly southwest Arkansas — plus the privilege of searching several nearby acres for diamonds.

Diamond hunting on the neighboring field has been active for years. There you can pay a visitor's fee and scratch around all day for the precious stones.

The "$5 lease" ad is merely a new twist in the scramble to lure tourists, the only group doing any diamond digging these days.

Mute Reminder

It was not always so. The diamond emblem on the Arkansas state flag is a mute reminder of the unknown wealth and the shattered dreams the gems once brought.

Farmer John W. Huddleston started it all in 1906. He noticed a shiny stone on his farm, picked it up and later learned he had found a diamond in its original formation.

Huddleston lost no time in selling his land to a group of Little Rock men for $36,000.

Commercial firms waded into the virgin 72-acre field with varying degrees of success. Estimates of the number of diamonds produced range from 5,000 to 50,000 —there are no accurate records.

One night in 1919 two diamond plants on adjoining tracts went up in flames under mysterious circumstances. That just about ended diamond mining on a large scale.

The last full year of digging in 1948-49 yielded only 246 carats of industrial diamonds worth a total of $985.

Tourists, digging against the backdrop of a few decrepit sheds in the area, have had better luck.

15½ Carat Gem

The last publicized find was by a Dallas housewife who in 1956 chanced on a 15½-carat rough diamond appraised as high as $15,000. The governor christened it the Star of Arkansas.

The finder, Mrs. Arthur Lee Parker, paid $1.50 for the prospecting privilege. Mrs. Parker was way ahead of most tourists at the start — she is an amateur geologist.

The largest diamond ever found in the United States is the 40-carat Uncle Sam unearthed in 1924 near Murfreesboro.

For the tourist it's finders-keepers, almost. On larger stones the finder pays a royalty of 25 per cent additional as state severance tax.

But the tourist heyday may end soon. State geologists say several ventures aimed at mining the field commercially again have nearly materialized. The only drawback seems to be in consolidating ownership of the diamond field.

Road Tour Overcomes Brief Stay on Broadway

NEW YORK (AP)—A long, successful road tour made "Back to Methuselah" a profitable production despite Broadway's apathy.

The condensed version of Bernard Shaw's drama which starred Tyrone Power and Faye Emerson cut short its White Way run because of poor business. The tour which preceded the local stand, earned enough for an overall net profit of about $13,000.

Midyear Outlook Better

Business Brightens Up After Dismal First Half

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Business at midyear feels better than it did New Year's Day—if only because the economy at the moment has stopped hammering its own thumb.

For many it's been a rough six months. The year started with industry on the skids. Many were losing their jobs as sales and then production slumped, largely in the durable goods industries.

But hopes for a turn at midyear held high until March when the recession, developing faster and going deeper than expected, looked its worst. The hoped - for date was postponed to the last months of this year.

DESPITE A MILD upturn in some lines in April, May and the first half of June few indeed expect a new boom to start in July. But many think the worst i over now.

The first half of the year is coming to an end with 5½ million persons looking for work. Industrial production is around 14 per cent lower than a year ago, and the total dollar value of the nation's output of goods and services is off 4 per cent from its peak. The cost of living after months of steady climbing is 3.3 per cent above a year ago.

But midyear also finds most of the farm belt feeling fine as the result of higher prices and good crop weather. And stock market prices are around their highs for the year.

Consumer spending is holding up pretty well in face of the drop in incomes for many persons and the tendency of others to save more than usual.

BORROWING IS easier now that the Federal Reserve Board has made money plentiful and interest rates lower.

Yet neither business nor consumers are borrowing as much as formerly. Consumers are paying up old debts and going slower on taking on new ones, especially for new cars.

Home building is perking up a little. And highway construction is on the upgrade.

The first half of the year has seen hopes of tax cuts wax and then wane as the federal deficit and debt start to soar.

Wage-price turmoil centers on the contractless auto workers and the debate over whether to raise steel prices and how much. Steel is enjoying an upturn in demand, if temporary. But copper, lead and zinc so far look only to possible relief from buying for the U.S. stockpile.

Inventory cutting has featured the first six months — one of the reasons the dip was so sharp — but some now profess to see the end in sight.

Poison Control Officials Kept Busy by Children

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Records of the Milwaukee poison control program show that in 1957 children in this city swallowed among other things:

Aspirin, liniment, soldering flux, reducing pills, furniture polish, battery acid, lighter fluid, airplane glue, fertilizer, gun bore cleaner, barbiturates, narcotics, tranquilizers, antihistamines, hormones, rubbing alcohol, camphorated oil, after shave lotion, iodine, toilet cleaners, laundry bleach, detergents, chromium polish, gasoline, kerosene, motor oil, benzine, wood alchol, paint, linseed oil, varnish paint thinner, pesticides, cologne and toilet water.

Blazes on Wrong Side Of Track Big Problem

BERLIN, Conn. (AP) — Firemen suspect a sadistic arsonist is at work. Recently they've had to fight numerous brush fires — all on the wrong side of the railroad tracks.

Firemen must dig small tunnels beneath the tracks to push their hoses to the other side. Trains would slice hoses laid acoss the tracks, and there are no hydrants on the "other" side.

Probers Ready To Reopen Hearings

Kennedy Set To Rip Lid Off New Labor Scandal

By VICTOR RIESEL

Everybody's talking about anti-racketeering laws—except the very man who can finish writing such laws. Such reforms have not even been officially discussed yet by the committee of the House of Representatives whose job it is to begin whipping the crime-busting regulations into shape.

VICTOR RIESEL

This was divulged in a poll of the key members of the House Labor Committee conducted by this column late last week. All those questioned replied bluntly that they did not believe there would be any labor legislation passed at all this year.

They predicted many delays and reported many political allergies to the anti-racketeering bills passed on by the Senate.

So much so that the full House of Representatives will simply never get a chance to vote for or against the reforms despite the McClellan committee's revelations that the mobsters are still doing business-as-usual inside some unions.

Despite the oppressive shadow of Old Man Time, the House Labor Committee is pacing itself calmly and leisurely by hearing witnesses on government scholarships for bright science and mathematics students. When these finish, the committee will get around to the 40 witnesses who have been lined up for hearings on the reform measures.

HOWEVER, IT IS difficult to see just how the House Education and Labor Committee can continue its whimsical approach after this week—for, over on the other side of The Hill. Senate crime prober Bob Kennedy is ready to rip the lid off one of the goriest conspiracies of all.

This time Kennedy will be tackling the core of the crime syndicate—the olders of the Old Capone mob in Chicago. Despite 92 murders in that city since 1919, and despite deportations of such hoods as extortionist Nick Circella to the Argentine, there is still a powerful combine of old timers left.

Their stakes must be big now in the labor rackets. Virgil Peterson of the Chicago Anti-Crime Committee, tells me that a "substantial" number of the hastily departed were pushed along by others who wanted to take over their labor fields.

Many of the old crowd went into the restaurant, night club and pub business— and their enthusiasm did not run towards competition.

MANY OF THEM did what comes naturally and got into a trade association. This outfit did so well it was able to get up a $125,000-a-year fee for labor relations and legal advice from Abe Teitelbaum, once lawyer for the Capones. It was Teitelbaum who delivered Ralph Capone to a New York Grand Jury investigating the million dollar movie labor extortion racket back in '43.

Mr. Teitelbaum, who wasn't able to hold on to that labor relations stint, will be among those questioned before the hearings into the hotel, restaurant and bartenders rackets are over.

What Mr. Kennedy plans to show is the method by which the hoods took over part of an industry, working with both labor and management officials to freeze out competition, keep wages low and prevent welfare and pension funds from, groaning under the weight of excess cash.

From this saga, the McClellan committee will move on to the Apalachin crime convention, at which were some hoods who are members of interlocking directorates with the Chicago brethren.

AFTER THIS, the AFL-CIO's Ethical Practices Committee will give the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union, headquartered in Cincinnati, just enough time to clean up or get out.

Thus, with these stories roaring across the front pages, the House of Representatives sub-committee will find it difficult to ignore the Senate bills and continue its own internal feuding.

The House committee will find it a long hot summer if it continues to follow the tradition which says that no controversial laws are passed by the House in an election year. Especially labor laws of any kind.

Note that the Taft-Hartley law was passed between elections, in 1947. It must be remembered that the entire House is up for re-election this fall and, therefore, would freeze bills which might give an opponent back home a chance to shout that too little or too much was in a bill supported by the incumbent.

But the Kennedy revelations, reportedly more startling than generally expected, may provide just enough political heat to melt the freeze.

Young Actor Ignoring Hollywood's Overtures

NEW YORK (AP) — A dedicated stage actor is D. J. Sullivan.

Sullivan, who is 22, appeared on Broadway this season in "Compulsion," and is now performing in a successful off - Broadway production of Jean Anouilh's "Ardele."

Based on his work in the two shows, a major Hollywood film studio offered Sullivan a term contract. But the young actor turned the bid down to stay with the footlights.

Does this picture look familiar?

Got those now-we've-cleaned-the-attic-what'll-we-do-with-the-stuff

blues?

It happens every year, doesn't it? At the first sign of nice weather, we go up to the attic, roll up our sleeves, and decide all this stuff has got to go! The attic isn't the only place that gets the "cleaned-out" treatment . . . the garage, the basement, the whole house falls before the clean-up, straighten-out fever.

When it's all over, how much of the stuff you had stored in those places do you actually throw away . . . and (alas!) how much of it is too good to throw, so you put it back to catch and gather dust until NEXT Spring-cleaning session!

This year why not make your cleaning session a profitable one . . . Take all those "still-in-good shape" items you've gathered up — and sell them through the want ad pages of The Marion Star.

Every day hundreds and hundreds of items that homemakers no longer need are sold through want ads . . . books, clocks, toys, baby furniture, sporting goods, appliances, musical instruments, to name just a few.

From monkeys to antiques, you'll find a buyer quickly, and in no time at all you'll have converted those dust-catchers into ready cash.

It's so easy, too . . . just dial 2-1101, ask for the Want Ad taker, come in and place your ad in person, or send it in by mail.

Make a clean sweep of those don't-need items today — make them earn extra dollars for you now.

Voters Clean Out Communists

Last Red Legislator Is Rejected by Canadians

WINNIPEG (NANA) — Canadians have just registered a significant anti-Communist victory. But it has passed unnoticed abroad and drawn only little attention in this country.

The last Communist member of any Canadian legislature has been turned out by the voters. He is William Kardash who, in the provincial elections just held in Manitoba, lost the seat for the Winnipeg North constituency he had retained since 1941. A Socialist, John Hawryluk, of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, decisively defeated him, polling twice as many votes.

So today communism is completely unrepresented in Canadian political forums at all levels from municipal to federal. This eradication of Reds has not been achieved through want of trying by Communists. Masquerading under the title of Labor-Progressives they have put up plenty of candidates in provincial and federal elections. Their electioneering has been extensive enough to bring expressions of mock-surprise from political observers who have wondered aloud significantly where a party of such tiny membership could find the necessary funds.

Yet even in defeat Kardash remains typical of this country's communism.

Kardash is bitter and fanatical, blindly subservient to Moscow. Born 1912, in a small Saskatchewan prairie town, of Ukrainian parents, he left high school to become a mechanic. Early in the Spanish civil war he enlisted in the International Brigade, was appointed a tank corps officer by the Communist commissars, lost his right leg from wounds.

Returning to Canada a seared and twisted personality, he has unquestioningly toed the Moscow line despite he dizzy twists of Kremlin policies. Now he is one of the small hard core of Canadian Reds around their veteran chief, Tim Buck.

AFTER STALIN'S death and strains caused by the Hungarian and Polish uprisings and the renewal of Soviet anti-semitism, the Candian Communist party passed through a period of dissensions, feuds and defections of prominent leaders. Today membership is down to 3,000 from a wartime peak of nearly 30,000, with elected members in federal and provincial legislatures. The party newspaper, "Canadian Tribune," formerly published daily with 15,000 circulation, is now an erratic eight-page weekly with fewer than 1,000 subscribers. Several Red periodicals, such as "Canadian Negro," have died.

Orchard Owner Chose Feel of Soil Over Money

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) —Everet H. Ormsbee, 86, who operates a pear orchard in western Colorado, says he went into farming because he preferred the feel of the soil to the feel of money.

He was working in a bank a Harvard, Neb., 61 years ago when he had a chance to buy a farm. Nine years later he moved to the Grand Junction area. Ormsbee was the oldest delegate at the 1958 convention of the Rocky Mountain Farmers Union in Denver.

Cat's Curiosity Leads To Finding Lost Wallet

JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP) — Thanks to the curiosity of a cat, a Janesville man's wallet has been returned after 10 years.

The cat was seen clawing at the earth behind the Richard Struely home. Struely dug deeper into the ground and found the wallet, which apparently had been stolen a decade ago from Bill Attis. The money was gone but identification papers were intact.

Struely returned the wallet to Attis.

Residential Appraiser Enjoys Studying in Homes of Wealthy

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP)—Isabella Charbneau Warren is one of the nation's busiest women at one of its most exclusive professions.

She gets paid to poke around in the finest homes in America, putting a price tag on everything from that rare old bed linen in the household since grandmother's day to the oil painting purchased because it picks up the colors of the new sitting room drapes.

She is an inside residential appraiser, specializing—but not exclusively—in fine arts.

Only Women Members

She and Mrs. Teresa Homer, who specializes in estates for a New York firm, are the only women senior members of the American Society of Appraisers.

Mrs. Warren came about her interest naturally. Her father is Jules Charbneau of San Francisco, famed collector of curios and an international authority on miniatures. All her life she has been near the precious things which make a home a haven or a heaven.

Being near these things is not enough, however, to qualify as a senior appraiser. It takes years and years of study and hard work. The intensive training started 25 years ago when the Charbneau family moved to San Francisco and she came under the guidance of the late A. L. Gump and Stanley Grohs.

First she learned about porcelains, chinas and rare art pieces in the swanky store operated by the Gump family. Then she shifted to the posh parlors of the gift department of Magnin store in San Francisco, there picking up a background in linens and housewares.

Began With Clothing

She topped this with work at the Saks Fifth Avenue-Beverly Hills store, becoming acquainted with names like Christian Dior, Valenciaga, Jacques Fath and others.

"First thing you know," she recalls," "I was appraising gowns, home furnishings and objets d'art for a whole lot of cinema celebrities." They included Eva Gabor, Dinah Shore, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Claudette Colbert, and Danny Kaye.

Right now, Mrs. Warren is totaling up the value of the contents of a "very large Park Avenue apartment—the value of which will run well into six figures." A while back she appraised the personal property of a California airplane company executive. That figure exceeded $300,000.

"He was very pleasantly surprised," she recalls. "And so might you be. The average man who invested $9,000 in the contents of his home 15 years ago would be hard pressed to replace it for $12,000 to $15,000 now. He probably only carries insurance to cover his cost—not what it will cost to replace."

Aid to Husband

On this she speaks with some authority, also. Her husband is an insurance executive and frequently utilizes her talents.

Advice for anyone who would like to get into her lucrative field?

"Study fine arts in college, then travel. Visit the factories of Sweden, Denmark, Italy, Spain and elsewhere. Learn something about how the really fine things are made. About the traditions, the materials, the great craftsmen. I love it. It's always new, thrilling and beautiful."

Busy Painters Discover Officers Also Working

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Three painters working downtown on a renovating project parked their cars in a two-hour zone on a busy street and left notes on the windshields saying: "Painters, working inside."

When they returned they found parking tickets and new notes saying: "Policemen working outside."

SPACE SUIT DEVELOPED

The Navy has developed a space suit which can be worn in comfort even in minus 40 degrees Farenheit temperature. The suit contains a sealed-in atmosphere which enables a man to work outside the earth's atmosphere. Pure oxygen provides a pressure equivalent to that at 2,000 feet.
